

WINTER TERM OF CONGRESS
OPENS TODAY

Mass of Unfinished Business Confronts Solons on Opening of Three-Month Session.

COOLIDGE'S LAST MESSAGE TUESDAY

Boulder Dam Legislation, Carried Over, First in Senate; Supply Bills Come Next.

Washington, December 2.—(AP)—A bustling batch of unfinished business and the regular load of routine labor awaits the reassembling tomorrow of the seventeenth congress for its concluding term ending March 4.

Only the perfunctory formal opening with its roll call and immediate adjournment out of respect to members who have died during the recess is on schedule for tomorrow. Tuesday the last annual message of President Coolidge to congress will be transmitted and then the decks will be clear for the three months session.

But even before the senate swings into action again on the pending Swing-Johnson bill for construction of a dam on the Colorado river at Boulder Canyon and the house takes up the first of the appropriation bills, leaders will be busy tomorrow conferring on the fate of two well-known campaign issues—farm relief and tariff revision.

Tariff Revision. As soon as the house concludes its opening meeting, the republican members of the ways and means committee will meet to determine if they shall undertake the upward revision of the tariff promised by their party heads in the campaign and, if so, when.

Leaders of both the senate and house also are scanning the calendar to find a place for action at this session on a farm relief marketing bill designed to meet the wishes of President Coolidge, who last session vetoed the McNary-Haugen measure. However, the unfinished and routine business promises to keep both branches of congress busy well into the new year. The senate will have before it this week the recently negotiated Kellogg anti-war treaty. The president is expected to send it up for the necessary ratification of the senate by Tuesday and Chairman McNary, of the senate foreign relations committee, already has issued a call for the committee to assemble Wednesday for the first consideration of the famous peace pact which has the signatures of most of the nations of the world.

But the Kellogg treaty as well as the administration's navy bill proposing the construction of 15 cruisers must await the termination of the row in the senate over Boulder Canyon dam legislation. Arizona legislators, supported by those from Utah, successfully blocked any vote on the Colorado river legislation last session and another bitter fight, lasting at least until Christmas, appears to be in prospect.

Even after the senate disposes of

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

ATHEISTS TO OPEN
FIGHT IN BIBLE
READING IN SCHOOL

New York, December 2.—(United News).—Fundamentalists' efforts to prevent the teaching of the theory of man's descent from lower animals are to be countered by agnostics in a campaign to prevent the reading of the Bible in public schools. Officials of the Free Thinkers of America, an agnostic society, announced today that they would begin the fight against the Bible within a fortnight. They intend to file a suit to restrain teachers from reading the Bible to their pupils.

The agnostics claim that reading the Bible to school children is in violation of the American principle of separation of church and state; that portions of the Bible are "immoral and salacious," and that many of the incidents described in it never occurred except in fancy.

MR. JIM SAYS:

My family finds that it pays to make the morning ads a regular part of our reading schedule. Quality and price are both unparalleled.

Advertising in The Constitution Pays the Advertiser and Saves the Buyer

Hapeville Police Chief Shot Dead
By Subordinate

Slayer Surrenders After Fatal Gun Duel on Hapeville Street; Held at Tower.

WITNESS DESCRIBES HEATED QUARREL

Dispute Said To Have Arisen Over Disposition of Prisoner; Chief Fired Twice.

Shot to death almost instantly late Sunday night by a subordinate officer, Chief of Police F. Odell Woods, of Hapeville, paid with his life for an alleged insult to Robert C. Meadows, 33, night policeman of that city, in a gun duel at South Central and North Fulton avenues.

One shot in the left breast, just above the heart, severed the subclavian artery and the chief of police died to death. Meadows, in company with Fred W. Patton, chairman of the police committee of city council, walked into Fulton tower and surrendered to county police, who are holding him without bond.

Varied stories of the shooting set forth that Woods was enraged at Meadows because of what he considered his insubordination in refusing to allow the chief to return a prisoner held in Hapeville to Canton to answer stolen car charges.

Three Witnesses. Chief of Police J. B. Wofford, of Canton, and Mr. Patton, together with O. L. Vanderford, another member of the Hapeville police force, were witnesses to the shooting.

Saturday night Vanderford had arrested Ernest Tipples, 15, of Canton, for speeding and held him on his inability to post bond. At the station Saturday night, Woods is said to have obtained the confession from him that he was driving a stolen car.

Telegraphing to Canton, the Hapeville chief confirmed the prisoner's story and Chief Wofford wired Woods to hold the boy until his arrival shortly after noon Sunday.

Meadows early this morning said that about 6 o'clock Sunday night, Vanderford stopped him from a downtown Atlanta hotel and asked him to bring a Hapeville police car to Atlanta to take the prisoner, Chief Wofford, Woods and himself to Canton.

Against City Law. Meadows said he told his superior officer that he could not do this because it was against city law for the city to take a city car out of the county, and that furthermore he was on duty until midnight and could not leave.

To make sure that he was right in the matter, Meadows said he called Patton and Patton at Fulton tower verified the Hapeville chief's statement and he was perfectly right in refusing to leave his post and be party to the transportation of a city car outside the county.

After he called Patton, the latter came down town to see the officer. It was said, and as the two were walking toward Central and Atlanta avenues, they met Woods in company with Wofford.

Meadows said that Woods called him a "dirty, yellow rascal" who did not know "who was chief of the Hapeville police department" and then knocked him to the ground. Wofford seized the Hapeville chief, and Meadows said he arose from the sidewalk and began to walk away when he was halted.

Called on Mayor. He went back, he said, and discussed the matter with Woods. Woods, he said, contended that the prisoner should be turned over to the Canton chief. While Meadows said he told him that he would be held in Hapeville to answer the speeding charge first. Failing to reach an agreement, Meadows turned and walked away and with Patton went to the residence of the Hapeville mayor, Ernest King, and asked him if he were right in his position on the matter. King confirmed him, Meadows said.

Completion of feeling ill from the injuries he suffered when Woods knocked him to the sidewalk, Meadows said he asked Patton's permission to go home, which was accorded him. Patton told him he would drive him home, and they were en route

Continued on Page 2, Column 6.

Slain Officer

CHIEF OF POLICE F. O. WOODS, Of Hapeville, Slain Sunday in a Gun Duel With Another Officer.

PEACHTREE STORE
YIELDS OVER $500
TO SAFE BLOWERS

Yeggmen Successfully
Apply Nitroglycerine to Safe in Mather Brothers' Office.

Using several thousand dollars worth of fine rugs to mask the sound of the explosion, yeggmen sometime Saturday night blew a safe on the second floor of the Mather Furniture company at 229 Peachtree street and looted it of slightly more than $500, according to reports to police by officials of the company, who discovered the loss Sunday morning.

Entering the first floor by opening a window from the fire escape, the burglars went to the second floor where three safes are stationed. After failing to open the first one they tried, the cracksmen moved on to the second and blew it with a charge of nitroglycerine. The third had not been molested.

Senior officials of the company, J. R. H. C. and Roy S. Mather, discovered the depredations about 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning when they entered the establishment. Detectives Starbuck and Campbell, assigned to the case, failed to find any clue left by the apparently expert yeggmen.

WATER REMAINS
SOURCE OF POWER

Federal Experts State
Hydro-Electric Output
Maintains Own in Comparison With Fuel.

Washington, December 2.—(AP)—Water power is holding its own in the production of electric energy in the opinion of the federal power commission which declared today in its annual report there was no indication that the output of hydro-electric energy is losing ground in comparison with fuel sources.

"Water power continues to supply about one-third of the total demand," the report said. However, water power resources of the country, it noted, are "by no means inexhaustible," and the economic factors "preclude, for the present at least, the development of the vast majority of the total water power possibilities."

Approximately 12,000,000-horsepower was installed in hydro-electric plants in the United States by the end of this fiscal year, of which 4,500,000 was subject to federal jurisdiction, the report declared, while in 1920 the total installation was 7,800,000 horsepower, with 2,500,000 subject to control by the federal government.

The commission, composed of the

Continued on Page 2, Column 6.

THIRTEEN-MONTH
CALENDAR ASKED
BY CONGRESSMAN

Washington, December 2.—(AP)—A resolution urging revision of the calendar by adding a 13th month will be offered in the house tomorrow by Representative Porter, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the foreign affairs committee.

Principal Witnesses Prefer To Testify Rather Than Remain in Jail, They Say.

SOLICITOR EXPECTS TO INDICT THREE

McManus "Stands Pat," Refusing To Say Anything About Murder of Millionaire.

BY SAM LOVE, United News Staff Correspondent. New York, December 2.—"Titanic" Thompson, "Nigger Nate" Raymond and one or two other witnesses will appear before the grand jury Monday and wind up with their testimony the evidence by which District Attorney Banton expects to indict three men for the murder of Arnold Rothstein, millionaire gambler and dabbler in real estate.

Both "Titanic" and "Nigger Nate," participants in the high spade game preceding the murder, have spent a week in jail before concluding that they might as well "talk" and get out. As soon as they have testified their bail as material witnesses will be reduced from $100,000 to $10,000.

In his own cell in the Tombs, George McManus smiled upon learning of their decision and refused to try to escape a first degree murder indictment by loosening his own tongue. He is to be one of the three men indicted, according to the district attorney. The names of the other two, which Banton has asserted he knows, will not be revealed until they are under arrest, although the district attorney said he would be ready to begin the trial of all three a week after the indictments are handed up.

Carefully, the plump gambler has inspected the cards displayed by the investigators and firmly decided to sit tight. The state's threat to send him to the electric chair as an actual murderer of his friend Rothstein he prefers to consider just a bluff.

Gambles With Fate.

But while refusing to throw down his own hand, McManus, with the caution of the expert gambler, with unexpected elements may still enter into the situation, has carefully refrained from forcing summary action. Although he has hinted that he will not short affidavit charging him with murder has long since reached the point at which he might force his release, he has not done so.

His about-face for the president-elect, and a little later the Engineers' association, of which he is an honorary member, will receive him. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Hoover will be the guests of honor at a dinner tendered by the president at the government palace, which will be followed by a dance.

The Hoover party will then return to Calles accompanied by the foreign minister and the reception committee. The mayor's act, it says: "The visit to Peru of the statesman who has been called to the highest position in his country is a cause for the deepest rejoicing for the Peruvian republic and her government; it has therefore been decided to decree his excellency, Herbert Clark Hoover, president-elect of the United States, the honorary guest of the nation."

The American president-elect was host today to the president and high officials of Ecuador—the first South American republic visited on his long tour, and the country which entertained him elaborately Saturday and this morning.

After a reception on board the

Continued on Page 4, Column 3.

New Air Mail British Air
Lines Inactive Not Engaged
Over Sabbath To Lady Anne

Routine Operation Will Be in Full Swing Monday, However.

With all the shouting and tumult of speech-making incident to opening of two new air mail lines safety stowed away, a dozen or so birdmen who run the New York-Atlanta, Atlanta-New Orleans, Atlanta-Chicago and Atlanta-Miami air lines today will settle down without further ado to the business of carrying the mail.

Except for the Chicago planes of the Interstate Airlines company, which arrived and departed on schedule Sunday, operation of air mail took the usual Sunday holiday. No mail planes are operated by Pitcairn Aviation except one plane which arrives from New York Sunday morning and another which carries the New York mail on to Miami. No northbound Pitcairn planes leave Atlanta from Saturday night to Monday night.

Activities today will begin with the departure at 9:25 a. m. of the Interstate Chicago plane carrying passengers.

Continued on Page 4, Column 7.

HOOVER BIDS ADIEU
TO ECUADOR; SAILS
FOR LAND OF INCAS

Expects To Arrive at Lima Some Time Wednesday; National Holiday Proclaimed.

U. S. S. Maryland, En Route to Peru, December 2.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover left Guayaquil, Ecuador, late today on the battleship Maryland for the second South American country of his good-will tour, Peru.

A party of Ecuadorian officials, headed by President Ayora, bade the American president-elect farewell on board the battleship, accompanying him from Guayaquil to the Maryland on the cruiser Cleveland. The Maryland had anchored 70 miles off Guayaquil, the cruiser being used to go to that port because of her lighter draft.

After a brief ceremony and sight seeing about the Maryland, President-elect Ayora and the Ecuadorian officials left the battleship and returned on board the Cleveland. The Maryland then steamed away for her next port, Lima, Peru.

Both the Maryland and the Cleveland fired 21-gun national salutes when the Hoover party and the Ecuadorian group arrived on the battleship. The Maryland's crew also lined the rail when President Ayora and his group came aboard their vessel. "The Hoover party will land at an official pier at which time the port batteries will fire a presidential salute. At the pier the president-elect will be greeted by a congressional commission, supreme court judges, the archbishop of Lima, the ministers of the government, army and navy officers, and civil authorities. The mayor of Callao will make a speech of greeting."

Will Motor to Lima.

The Hoover party then will motor to Lima where a stop will be made at the presidential palace to meet President Leguia. Troops will line the streets between the embassy and the palace.

Mr. Hoover later will return to the embassy accompanied by the president, riding in the presidential motorcade. He will receive the mayor and aldermen of Lima.

At 4 p. m. the American colony will hold a reception for the president-elect, and a little later the Engineers' association, of which he is an honorary member, will receive him. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Hoover will be the guests of honor at a dinner tendered by the president at the government palace, which will be followed by a dance.

The Hoover party will then return to Calles accompanied by the foreign minister and the reception committee. The mayor's act, it says: "The visit to Peru of the statesman who has been called to the highest position in his country is a cause for the deepest rejoicing for the Peruvian republic and her government; it has therefore been decided to decree his excellency, Herbert Clark Hoover, president-elect of the United States, the honorary guest of the nation."

Continued on Page 4, Column 3.

AGED NEGRO LOSES
LIFE'S HOARD, $100,
TO HOLD-UP PAIR

One hundred silver dollars, the savings of 65 years, was the price St. John, 55, negro patriarch, paid Sunday night to two masked holdup men who lay in wait for him in his home at the rear of a Moreland avenue address.

The aged negro reported to City Detectives Chester and Jones that he was returning home late Sunday night from a visit to relatives in the suburbs of the city and that two masked men drew guns on him when he entered his home and commanded him to "shell out."

Quaveringly, the old negro told the men he didn't have a cent on him, but when they threatened to kill him, he turned over a sack with 100 silver dollars which he had cached at his home. He could not tell whether the men were white or negroes.

Continued on Page 2, Column 7.

Hoover and Party Find
Equator Regions Chilly

IRWIN DESCRIBES TRIP ALONG COAST

ABOARD THE U. S. S. Maryland, En Route to Callao, Peru, December 2.—As President-elect Hoover and those of us who accompanied him ashore at Ecuador wound our way down the estuary leading to Guayaquil, most of us were very sleepy and somewhat shivery.

It was a very chilly day under the equator and those who wore their tropical clothes found cause for regret. So far, I pause to say, no one aboard the Maryland has suffered from the dreaded tropical heat, and we leave behind us today the warmest and most utterly foreign welcome of the trip.

From the moment when we slid into sight of Guayaquil, with the crowds cheering and waving along the banks, we had a sense of breaking with the past—of entering a new world. Such a sense of the national spirit—of the Central America, as we saw, seems now only an exaggeration of the Spanish culture of our own southwest—has been woven a dividing line between the two cultures.

We felt it in the sampans, with their oddly pointed bows and sterns, threatening in and out among the speedboats and catboats that acted as the volunteer fleet of welcome.

Tropic Beauty. We felt it in the broad main street, with pillared and shaded balconies, from which beauty, looting on its forearms, smiled down on us under garlanded eaves. And in the impressive parade of the national troops—the crack guards company, whose plumed helmets and goose steps proved their training under German officers, the white uniformed infantry which sang the national anthem as they stood at present arms, and the cavalry on its lean Arabian horses—all suggested somehow a country with its own peculiar ways, outlook on problems and beliefs.

Yet the most vivid memory I carry away is that of a man, Don Isidro Ayora, provisional president of Ecuador and dictator by force of circumstance.

Don Ayora is an eminent physician whom the military clique installed as the ablest man to run the country and who, when he came to power, restored the government to the civil arm of the state. The army faction thereupon rose and made him a prisoner.

"Resign or die," he said. "Then I die," he responded. While the army leaders hesitated, another friendly regiment captured the square type as our Stouts and Cheyenne. In fact, his would be an ideal face to draw for a young Ogala chief, for while he is nearing 50 he looks 25.

The grave, courtly Senora Ayora, on the other hand, is of full-blooded Spanish descent. Because of his stabilization of the country finances, President Ayora has the confidence of most of the leading citizens and is rapturously popular with the people in general.

When he and Mr. Hoover showed themselves to the populace from the balcony of the presidential residence, I was standing on an adjoining balcony and the vivas, shouted in chorus like a college yell, nearly knocked me off my feet. The people were cheering, I felt, for their distinguished guest but for their own president, too.

This surfeit of Ecuador seems in all his five feet seven inches, a patriot and a man.

Continued on Page 2, Column 7.

SALESMAN SUICIDE TOLL OF 'QUAKES'
IN ATLANTA HOTEL MOUNTS TO 160

Slashing his throat, both wrists and drinking a cup full of bicarbonate of mercury, Clancy Finney, 58, salesman, of Macon, early Sunday morning ended his life in his room at a downtown hotel, according to police reports.

Police said the man, after cutting his throat and wrists and drinking the poison, walked to the telephone and told the room clerk to send up a bell boy with some ice water. When the boy arrived he found Finney in the throes of death and summoned the hotel physician, but the salesman died in an ambulance en route to Grady hospital.

Finney had been registered at the hotel since November 26, officials said. No motive has been assigned for the man's act. The physician said that the dying man told him he was "just tired of living."

The body was turned over to the funeral establishment of Sam R. Greenberg & Co., who removed it Sunday afternoon to Macon for funeral services and interment.

Continued on Page 4, Column 3.

Chilean City Entirely Destroyed by Temblor, Say Latest Bulletins; Help Is Rushed.

Santiago, Chile, December 2.—(AP)—Relief moved out to the living among the ruins of yesterday's earthquake today while the official count of the dead rose to over 100. Communication still was lacking with some towns while in several cities the piles of the debris thrown down by the shock yesterday morning had been only partly removed for victims.

The greatest devastation fell on Talca, an industrial city of 38,000 population, about 150 miles south of the capital. Fifty-seven bodies were said to have been recovered in the ruins, and official reports were that the death list would number 100 for the city alone.

Talca Virtually Wiped Out. Talca virtually was wiped out and persons arriving here today said that the damage would amount to 100,000,000 pesos (about $12,000,000). Troops who were enforcing martial law took over most of the food supply to prevent looting and were rationing it. They blocked the efforts of speculators to take advantage of the emergency by jumping their prices.

The Talca hospital burned after the temblor and the more than 200 injured were cared for in emergency shelters by the physicians and nurses who were rushed to the spot at the first reports of the disaster. Railway communication had been restored with the stricken district the regular schedule was cancelled to permit relief trains to hurry on their errands of mercy without impediment.

Continued on Page 2, Column 7.

QUEEN AND YORK
STAY NEAR ROOM
THROUGHOUT NIGHT

Four Physicians Called in and Oxygen Administered in Effort to Prolong Life.

ANXIOUS CROWDS THROW PALACE

All Eyes Watch for Lowering of Ruler's Standard Denoting Death; Wales Rushes Home.

BY JOHN L. BALDERSTON. Copyright, 1928, by The Constitution and the New York World.

London, December 3.—King George is believed to be dying. At 4:30 this morning a bulletin, signed by four doctors, showed the weakening of the heart first chronicled in the bulletin issued at 8 o'clock last night persists.

Besides Lord Dawson, of Penn, and Sir Stanley Hewitt, his majesty's regular physicians, the latest bulletin bears the names of Sir E. Farquhar Buzzard, physician-extraordinary to the king, not hitherto called into consultation, and Dr. Whitby, a lung specialist.

At 12:45 a. m. the coming and going of physicians and officials at Buckingham palace was continuous. It was reported without confirmation that oxygen was being administered to the royal patient. It was understood that at that hour the queen and the king's two children, who are in England, Princess Mary and the Duke of York, were in a room adjoining the king's, awaiting a summons to his bedside.

Sleep Is Bad Sign.

The sleep mentioned in the latest bulletin is not considered a good sign. This bulletin stated: "His majesty's king, has had some sleep during the last three hours. A further consultation confirms the opinion expressed in the last bulletin and, in spite of the improvement in the lung, anxiety concerning the strength of the heart persists."

The previous bulletin referred to in the king's justly declared "the ineffective process has continued to diminish," but adds the ominous words, "There is a decline in the strength of the heart of the king."

Doctors Stay All Night.

Both bulletins, last night's and this morning's, indicate clearly that the king's strength is weakening, which in such cases is alarming. Public fears are not allayed by the fact that the monarch's immediate family are at the palace and that the doctors for the first time since he was stricken with pleurisy, 13 days ago, are in constant attendance.

At 1:30 this morning it was announced that the physicians would remain at the palace several hours longer. At that hour, leaving the bedside of the king for a brief period, they telephoned to Downing street a report of their consultation for the information of the cabinet.

When this morning's discouraging news was posted on the railings of the palace, the huge crowd hovering solemnly outside rushed eagerly to read the doctor's statement of his serious state, it was the first time the names of two of the physicians who signed the bulletin appeared on the bulletins, although Dr. Whitby, a bacteriologist, had previously been consulted without his name having been made public.

So far as it is humanly possible to foresee, there is no reason to expect any important change in the king's condition. Information given out early this morning to the press association here by palace officials.

Following a false report of the king's death yesterday afternoon, a tremendous crowd gathered before the palace gates, where it still remains.

Continued on Page 4, Column 6.

The Weather
PARTLY CLOUDY.

Washington, December 2.—(AP)—Forecast:

Georgia—Partly cloudy Monday and Tuesday; slightly warmer in southeast portion Monday; colder Tuesday.

Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina—Generally fair Monday; slightly warmer in east and central portions Tuesday; partly cloudy and colder.

Florida—Partly cloudy Monday and Tuesday; slightly warmer in northeast portion Monday; colder in north portion Tuesday.

Extreme Northwest Florida—Partly cloudy Monday and Tuesday; colder Monday afternoon and night.

Mississippi—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday; colder Monday.

Kentucky and Tennessee—Partly cloudy and colder Monday, probably snow in the mountains or east portion Monday night; Tuesday, fair and colder.

LONE TRAIN BANDIT ADMITS ROBBERY

Youth Who Robbed Flier Is Captured by Ruse; Says He Secured Small Sum.

Monroe, La., December 2.—(AP)—A ruse executed by officers led to the arrest today of a 23-year-old man who confessed, the sheriff announced, that he was the daring two-gun bandit who held up an Illinois Central passenger train near here last night and escaped with a quantity of money and jewelry.

Sheriff Milton Coverdale said today, after questioning the suspect, C. T. (Blondy) Woodson, that he admitted holding up the train alone and obtaining a small quantity of money and two watches, but denied firing a shot which entered the neck of a passenger. Currency totaling $46.20, a ladies' wrist watch and an expensive man's watch were found on his person. The sheriff said he was confident the additional loot, amounting to several thousand dollars, had been hidden somewhere.

Members of the train crew and passengers will be brought here tomorrow, the sheriff said, in an effort to identify Woodson as the man who held up the train and fired the shot.

Cloudy Skies But No Rain In Sight Today

Partly cloudy weather with no rain will form Atlanta's weather menu today, according to forecasts of the national weather bureau in Washington. Temperatures are slated to remain approximately at Sunday's level, while light south and southeast winds will prevail.

The extreme northeast portion of the state will experience colder weather today, and the entire state will be colder Tuesday, the forecast said. Sunday's temperatures ranged from a low mark of 42 degrees at 6 a. m. to a high reading of 68 degrees.

TWO OHIO WOMEN TELL OF AMAZING BENEFITS

Miss Elizabeth Kern Says Through Relief From Sargon One of Happiest Surprises of Her Life—Gained 18 Pounds and Complexion Has Cleared Up Wonderfully—Mrs. Sammons Also Enthusiastic.

FROM all sections of the United States where Sargon is available come floods of glowing letters telling of the almost unbelievable results obtained from this scientific formula. Two striking instances of rapid recoveries from long periods of suffering and ill health are seen in the letters recently received from two well-known Ohio women.

These two women are from widely separated groups. One of them, Mrs. T. A. Sammons, Dayton, Ohio, is 57 years of age and the mother of eight children. The other, Miss Elizabeth Kern, is a business woman of fifteen years' experience.

In referring to her experience with the new treatment, Mrs. Sammons said:

"I am 57 years of age and the mother of eight children. I have not been in good health for several years and for the past two years have not been able to do my house work. My principal trouble seemed to be chronic constipation, making it necessary for me to take laxative drugs every few days. I also had very little appetite and my food disagreed with me. I was nervous and felt tired and worn out most of the time. I simply had no energy for anything."

"One of the very first things I noticed was that my complexion began to clear up and everyone told me how much better I was looking. Last week I helped my daughter with the house work, which was the first time I had been able to do any work for two years. In fact, I worked hard all the week without any bad effects. Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills are simply wonderful."

"I have the best appetite I have had in years and everything I eat agrees with me, but the greatest blessing of all is the relief from constipation. I like the action of Sargon pills because they didn't upset me or make me sick in the least."

"I also sleep peacefully and from the way my clothes are feeling on me I must have gained fifteen pounds in weight. I am anxious for all of my friends to know of this wonderful medicine."

In telling of the remarkable benefits she had received from Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills, Miss Kern said:

"Long hours at my work seemed to have completely undermined my health and I was in a terribly run-down condition. I was also troubled a great deal with indigestion and constipation, making it necessary for me to take a great many different kinds of medicine. At times I would feel a little better, but relief was only temporary."

"My complexion was simply terrible. My skin was cloudy and yellowish. My appetite wasn't very good; at times I had no appetite at all. I couldn't sleep well and was losing strength and weight rapidly."

"I felt through the use of Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills had been one of the happiest surprises of my life. It doesn't sound possible, but I have actually gained eighteen pounds in weight. And my complexion has cleared up so wonderfully I really don't look like the same person."

"I have a splendid appetite now and enjoy my meals. I also sleep well and am feeling fine in every way."

"I have taken two bottles of Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills. I think the pills are wonderful. They don't upset me like other medicines I have taken and seem to be just what I needed."

"When Sargon is given to debilitated, run-down women, the following results are noted in the majority of cases:

The appetite increases; the complexion clears; indigestion, gas, bloating, constipation and many other common, everyday ailments are overcome. A sense of physical well-being and mental alertness replaces a dragging body and depressed mind."

Everywhere Sargon has been introduced literally thousands have come forward to tell of the astounding results they have obtained from its use.

Sargon can now be obtained from the Jacobs Pharmacy Company, a branch office at Atlanta. A special representative of the Sargon Laboratories can be seen at Jacobs' main store, 6 and 8 Marietta street, where he will gladly explain the therapeutic action of Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills to all who are interested.—(adv.)

Woodson was brought to the parish jail here, where he was questioned by the sheriff this morning. He formerly worked here and at El Dorado, Ark., as a bricklayer, but had been out of work for some time. Officers said they learned he attempted to obtain a loan yesterday and stated he was "broke."

About a year ago he married a 16-year-old Monroe girl.

Fled to Woods.

Last night the holdup man piloted the train, No. 203, bound for Shreveport, to an isolated wayside station, forced the conductor to pass the hat and fled into the woods with money and jewelry believed by officers to be worth several thousand dollars.

The man was seen to board the train at Monroe. When several miles were covered to the west he raised up from the engine tender and at the point of a gun forced the engineer, S. B. Delee, to halt the train. At this juncture the negro fireman and brakemen escaped and went through the train to warn the passengers of the attack.

"You fire her; I can drive this train," came a stern command to the engineer. So the bandit-driven train sped on to Knoxville, the waystation 15 miles from Monroe, where Engineer Delee personally escorted the train to the locomotive for fear of an explosion of the boilers.

Forcing the engineer to accompany him as far back as the first coach the robber encountered Conductor S. E. Frisby and forced him by the pole of steel to gather the money, watches and jewels.

Conductor Frisby, unarmed and powerless, passed the hat unwillingly the entire length of the train, first cleaning those in the day coaches and then arousing passengers from their berths.

Entering the dining car the robber leveled his guns on the waiters with the remark, "I think I'll pick a few blackbirds here, but he didn't shoot. The single casualty of the raid, K. M. Blount, a Memphis traveling salesman, received a painful bullet wound in the neck when he failed to turn over a watch in addition to his wallet. "I think I'll just kill you now," the robber was quoted as saying.

Some of the passengers escaped greater losses by hiding valuables and money in inaccessible spots after the hurried warning of the train crew. Among them was Miss Mary A. Ransom of Louisville, N. C., who hid $250 in the top of her shoe and handed out just $5.

A private funeral car was unloading.

After the holdup the train completed its trip to Shreveport.

Twenty Injured.

AS CRACK TRAIN IS DERAILED

Roseburg, Oregon, December 2.—(AP)—Twenty passengers were injured when the Southern Pacific's crack train, the Shasta Limited, was derailed by a loose drive wheel tire seven and a half miles north of here today.

The train was crowded with passengers returning from the Medford-Benson football game at Portland, and several vaudeville troupes. The actors immediately organized volunteer rescue crews and aided in removing the victims from the wreckage.

NATIONAL MORMON LEADER SPEAKER AT MEETING HERE

With delegations attending from Columbus, Macon, Augusta and other places in the state, a conference of members of the Mormon church in Georgia was held Sunday with Elder Stephen L. Richards, one of the national leaders of the church, presiding.

Dr. Richards, who is touring the country with his party of missionaries, was principal speaker at each of the three sessions Sunday. The speaker devoted much of his time to the instruction of the home.

"If I observe any clarity at all," Dr. Richards said, "I find the cause of many delinquencies to be in the places in the state, to protect the people and their right of rest, and if they desire to do so, the Mormon church is open and 'much unnecessary labor and business are carried on this day.'"

The district of Columbia, he continued, had no Sunday laws, such as have all the states, "to protect the people and their right of rest, and if they desire to do so, the Mormon church is open and 'much unnecessary labor and business are carried on this day.'"

Regarding the Sunday laws of the states, Dr. Richards declared they were weak in some states but reasonably strong in most states. He advocated enactment of the Landrum Sunday rest bill for the District of Columbia.

The Rev. William Parsons, D. D., of Pittsburgh, in the conference "key note" address said it was the aim of the association to obtain reasonable Sabbath laws in every state and the District of Columbia. He said rigid enforcement of the prohibition laws was daily reading of the Bible in public schools advocated. The conference will last three days.

TEXTILE WORKERS RESUME LABORS UNDER PROTEST

Pawtucket, R. I., December 2.—(AP) Francis J. (Tommy) first president of the United Textile Workers of America, announced tonight that union workers employed in the Lonsdale textile mills of Pawtucket would go to work under protest tomorrow when the five per cent wage cut goes into effect.

The decision was reached at a closed meeting attended by employees of the Lonsdale company mills in Lonsdale, Ashton and Berkeley. There was no other organized action in this region, although the employees of several other mills, both union and non-union, will be affected by the wage cut.

CONGRESS FACES UNFINISHED TASKS

Continued from First Page.

Boulder dam, two other bills remain on the preferred status calendar hanging over from last session—the proposal to regulate interstate shipments of prisoner labor goods and the measure to increase penalties for prohibition law violations.

The house starts its final session of the 70th congress with almost a clean slate. Its first attention will be bent upon the measures appropriating the several billions of dollars necessary to run the government during the approaching fiscal year. The house has passed both the Boulder dam and the navy cruiser bills.

Speaker Longworth favors early consideration by the house of a new farm relief bill. Over in the senate Chairman McNary, of the agricultural committee, has drafted a new measure incorporating most of the administration ideas on farm relief and minus the controversial equalization fee. He will have this ready, probably by Tuesday.

But there are many members on both sides, and among them a number who took an active part in the campaign fight for Herbert Hoover, who want this entire question of farm relief and tariff revision left to the extra session promised by Mr. Hoover. The event this session, should fail to dispose of the question.

The house appropriations committee has been busy for weeks drafting some of the annual supply bills and Chairman Anthony expects to have one ready for immediate consideration by the house. It is the hope of Representative Tilson, of Connecticut, the republican leader, to have three of the regular appropriation bills acted upon before Christmas.

Appropriation Bills.

As in the house, the appropriation bills will be given the right of way in the senate when they reach there. The republican members of the house ways and means committee appear to

Sunday Shows In Washington Hit by Pastor

Pittsburgh, December 2.—(AP)—There are few places in America "where there is so little regard shown for the Sabbath as at Washington," the Rev. R. H. Martin, D. D., of Pittsburgh, president of the National Reform association, declared in an address here today. "The influence of this Sabbath desecration is nationwide, even world-wide," he contended.

Speaking at the sixty-fifth annual convention of the association, Dr. Martin said Sunday was the "big day" for the commercial amusement interests of the capital. "The many stores are open" and "much unnecessary labor and business are carried on this day."

The District of Columbia, he continued, had no Sunday laws, such as have all the states, "to protect the people and their right of rest, and if they desire to do so, the Mormon church is open and 'much unnecessary labor and business are carried on this day.'"

Regarding the Sunday laws of the states, Dr. Richards declared they were weak in some states but reasonably strong in most states. He advocated enactment of the Landrum Sunday rest bill for the District of Columbia.

The Rev. William Parsons, D. D., of Pittsburgh, in the conference "key note" address said it was the aim of the association to obtain reasonable Sabbath laws in every state and the District of Columbia. He said rigid enforcement of the prohibition laws was daily reading of the Bible in public schools advocated. The conference will last three days.

TEXTILE WORKERS RESUME LABORS UNDER PROTEST

Pawtucket, R. I., December 2.—(AP) Francis J. (Tommy) first president of the United Textile Workers of America, announced tonight that union workers employed in the Lonsdale textile mills of Pawtucket would go to work under protest tomorrow when the five per cent wage cut goes into effect.

The decision was reached at a closed meeting attended by employees of the Lonsdale company mills in Lonsdale, Ashton and Berkeley. There was no other organized action in this region, although the employees of several other mills, both union and non-union, will be affected by the wage cut.

WATER REMAINS SOURCE OF POWER

Continued from First Page.

secretaries of war, agriculture and interior, with a civilian staff of employees transferred from the three departments, repeated the declaration it has made several times previously: that lack of adequate personnel compels it to neglect one of the two sets of duties assigned to it by congress.

TWELVE PERSONS HURT AS TRAIN LEAVES RAILS

Roseburg, Ore., December 2.—(AP)—The Shasta Limited, passenger train of the Southern Pacific company, was derailed today seven and one-half miles north of here when a drive wheel fell from the locomotive. Twelve passengers were injured when six cars piled into the ditch. The train was bound from Portland to San Francisco.

The train was moving at an estimated speed of between 35 and 40 miles an hour when the steel tire on one of the drive wheels of the locomotive snapped off. Engineer P. E. Prettyman, Portland, felt the tire give way and immediately applied the brakes. The locomotive was shunted from the track and the train came to a stop at a distance of 300 yds when the baggage car buckled and plunged into an eight-foot ditch. Five other cars piled up on top.

Engineer Prettyman and Fireman W. J. Gonier, Portland, were not injured, as the locomotive did not turn over.

HAPEVILLE POLICE CHIEF SHOT TO DEATH

Continued from First Page.

There, at South Central and North Fulton avenues, when they encountered the car containing Woods, Wofford and Vanderford.

Sign Out of Car.

Woods signalled for Patton to stop. Meadows said, and the former pushed over to the curb, while Woods stopped his car in the middle of the street. Woods got out of his car, Meadows said, and came toward him in a menacing manner, while he made no move to leave Patton's car.

Both Wofford and Vanderford leaped out of the car and halted Woods, trying to calm him, when at this juncture, Meadows said, he left the car and walked around in an effort to effect a reconciliation with his chief.

Breaking loose from the two men who held him lightly by the arms, Woods hastily removed his coat and advanced on Meadows, the latter said.

Meadows said that in an effort to frighten Woods and halt his advance, he drew his gun and fired once in the air. Woods then darted behind his automobile, he continued, drawing his revolver as he ran, while Meadows went behind the other car.

"Damn you! I'll kill you!" shouted Woods, according to Meadows, and followed this by two shots which lodged in the body of the automobile. Meadows fired twice and one of the bullets struck Wood just above the heart. The chief of police fell from behind the car with blood spurting from a severed artery. He died before an ambulance from A. C. Hemperley & Son, of East Point, arrived.

Meadows then went to Fulton tower and surrendered.

WATER REMAINS SOURCE OF POWER

Continued from First Page.

secretaries of war, agriculture and interior, with a civilian staff of employees transferred from the three departments, repeated the declaration it has made several times previously: that lack of adequate personnel compels it to neglect one of the two sets of duties assigned to it by congress.

Petrel Follies Get Brand-New Broadway Hit

BY EVELYN C. SILVERMAN.

Earl Blackwell, Oglethorpe university student, will have made a scoop on local theater managers in his determination to give the Atlanta public the very latest Broadway hits, when he presents the Petrel Follies on Thursday and Friday evenings at the Forsyth theater. Mr. Blackwell wired Eddie Cantor, famous comedian, for the hit of the show, "Whoopie," which opens on Broadway Tuesday. And exactly two nights later the Petrel Follies cast of over 50 college boys and coeds will present the headline attraction of the Ziegfeld million-dollar show.

The 1929 edition of the Petrel Follies is the product of keen young minds, who have combined forces to give Atlanta theatergoers the most spectacular revue ever before attempted by college students. The Bobby Jones twist, an intriguing dance step, will be presented for the first time on any stage; women in all her glory will pass in review in the startling feature, "Queen for a Day." Eve, Helen of Troy, Marie Antoinette, The Red Cross Girl of 1918, Amelia Earhart and Miss 1930 will be there.

Costumes for "In a Japanese Temple Garden" are on the way from Japan and Sadajiro Yoshimura, Oglethorpe student, will distribute them to the members of the cast. Angel Allen, Jane Sharp and Jean Nutting are all busy, doing in the number, "Big Baby Doll." Louise Madden, Jake Sutton, Banty Eubanks and Eugenia Buchanan, who scored as favorites with the Atlanta audience last year, will be starred in song and dance numbers and comedy interludes.

Tickets for the Petrel Follies will be on sale at the Forsyth theater.

SON OF TENNYSON DIES IN ENGLAND OF PNEUMONIA

Fresh Water Isle-of-Wight, England, December 2.—(AP)—Lord Tennyson, son of the famous poet, died this morning from congestion of the lungs after a week's illness.

STEAK

Serve with gravy made of 3 parts hot melted butter and 1 part LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE

ROBINSON'S SPECIALS IN FINE FRUIT CAKE MATERIALS

Glace Citron, fancy, lb. 39c
Glace Pineapple, lb. 55c
Glace Cherries, fancy, lb. 55c
Glace Peas, lb. 35c
Crystallized Ginger, lb. 69c
Crystallized Figs, lb. 69c
Crystallized Limes, lb. 59c
Fancy Loose Dates, lb. 25c
Fancy Layer Figs, lb. 20c
Chinese Preserved Ginger, lb. 65c

White Raisins, new, lb. 13c
Sun-Maid Raisins, pkgs. 10c
Shelled Black Walnuts, lb. $1.00
Shelled Almonds, new, lb. 98c
Shelled Walnuts, new, lb. 79c
Shelled Pecans, new, lb. 89c
Walnuts, fancy, new, lb. 50c
Almonds and Brazil Nuts, lb. 30c
Pecans, new, soft shell, lb. 25c
Pecans new, papershell, lb. 35c

ROBINSON'S NUTTERY

We Pack—65 BROAD STREET S. W. (Next to Effron's)—We Ship

Kings of Living

A grand and high-stepping monarch was old Louis XIV—they still talk about him back in his own home town. Nothing was too good for Louis—in fact, the best wasn't quite good enough.

Yet his magnificent palace had neither gas nor electricity and there wasn't a tiled shower-bath in the place.

Today the average American citizen enjoys conveniences and comforts exceeding Louis XIV's most extravagant dreams. And many things which we regard as absolute necessities would have seemed the most elegant luxuries to Louis.

Advertising has made possible this widespread distribution of the good things of life. Advertising has made possible large-scale production and large-scale selling, resulting in prices that take luxuries out of the "for-kings-only" class.

It is well worth your while to read the advertisements. They are largely responsible for the high standard of living enjoyed in this country today. And they are raising it daily, making us kings of comfort—kings for Louis to envy.

Read the advertisements in The Constitution—they help you to enjoy life

Hubig's famous honey fruit PIES good from crust to crust

SIMON THE PICHMAN

MADE 10-20-30¢

HUBIG'S HONEY FRUIT PIES

fresh daily
at your grocers

Banking and Insurance

Every business man should read, and heed, their newest developments as told by these two leading economists

JOSEPH R. KRAUS... Vice-President and Executive Manager of the Union Trust Company, Cleveland, Ohio.

M. A. LINTON... Vice-President of the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia.

"Oh, well, the banks are starving it to death"... Loose thinking and lack of facts are generally responsible for this careless remark with which some men sum up their adverse views of an unsuccessful enterprise.

And now comes Joseph R. Kraus to clear away this smoke-screen of ill-will with a vigorous statement of a bank's obligation to protect its loans. And how, at the same time, it strains to help a business failure onto a profitable and secure foundation.

Life insurance is so universal that it may almost be considered a national tax. Yet it has changed, in attitude and objective, so rapidly that its newest phase affects business at every turn. Let M. A. Linton bring you up to date on this vital development in one of our major industries.

In addition there are 30 other articles, reviews, cartoons, and other features in this vivid and constructive issue. Read it for an accurate condensation of American business. Colorful. Informative. Clear.

In the December Issue of . . .

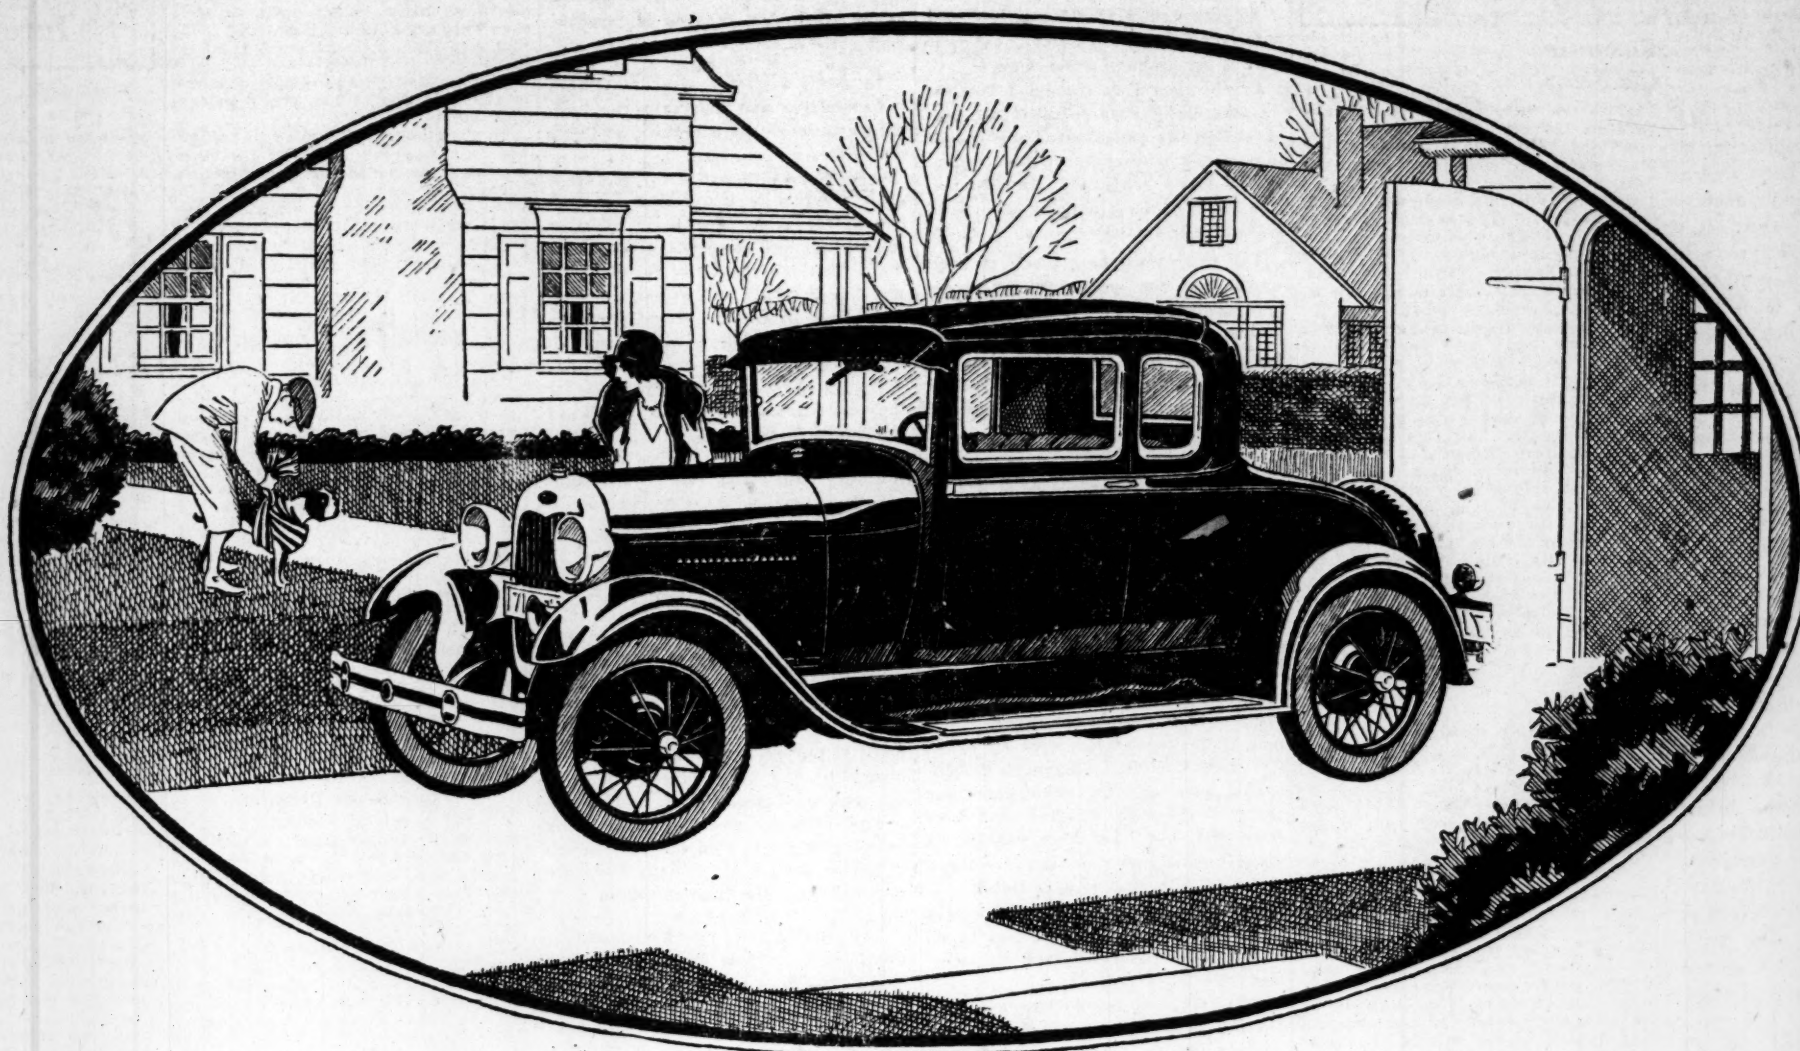

NATION'S BUSINESS

PUBLISHED MONTHLY AT WASHINGTON BY THE UNITED STATES CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

ATLANTA OFFICE: 613 CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BUILDING

Now on all Newsstands . . . 25¢

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ MERLE THORPE, Editor ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Constantly we are finding new and better ways of doing things

THE new Ford was a good car when it was first introduced. It is a better car today. Constantly we are finding new and better ways of doing things. Ceaselessly, untiringly, our engineers are working for the improvement of the car. Every new idea that seems to promise advancement is studied and tested in every conceivable way.

Not only in the laboratory, but out on the road in actual running. As soon as we are sure of its value we put it into the car.

The result is an automobile that is always new. There is no such thing as saving improvements for a yearly model designed to speed up sales or capture a passing fancy.

No matter when you buy a new Ford—in January, May, August or December—you know that it embodies every latest development that has proved sound and good.

You know more than this. You know that in design, materials and workmanship it is the best car that can possibly be made at a low price. The deciding thought behind every move is not sales or profits—but "What will give the most service to the public?"

Our whole effort is toward simplicity—to give you complete, well-rounded performance with the least amount of machinery and without sacrificing quality anywhere along the line. You cannot make a complicated car at a low price without cutting corners somewhere.

The new Ford is a truly great car because it brings you a proved, sensible balance of every essential feature of an automobile. No one part has been over-developed at the expense of another.

You get remarkable acceleration and smoothness at all speeds. You get speed of 55 to 65 miles an hour. You get uncommon power and hill-climbing ease. You get reliability and economy of operation that will save you many dollars in the up-keep of your car.

You get more than this . . . a fully enclosed, silent six-brake system—four Houdaille hydraulic shock absorbers—Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield—the full and immediate advantage of many improvements developed exclusively by the Ford Motor Company.

Arrange now to see the new Ford and know the thrill of driving it. Judge it not only on acceleration, power and speed, but also on safety, comfort, ease of control, reliability, economy—on its long life and the security of its trade-in value.

You will know then that today, more truly than ever before, there is nothing quite like the new Ford in design, quality and price.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY
Detroit, Michigan

THE CONSTITUTION

CLARK HOWELL
Editor and General Manager
Clark Howell, Jr., Business Manager

Entered at the Postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.

Telephone WA 4, 612.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
Daily and 1 Mo. 3 Mo. 6 Mo. 1 Yr.
Daily 10c 25c 50c $1.00 $2.00
Single Copies—Daily, 10c; Sunday, 10c.
By Mail Only.
Sunday 10c 25c 50c $1.00 $2.00
P. O. and money order payable to The Constitution.
Terms for 1st and 2nd years only.
Daily (without Sunday) 1 yr. $3.00

ATLANTA, GA., DEC. 3, 1928.

J. R. HOLLADAY, Constitution Building, 1000 Peachtree street, N. E., Atlanta, Ga., advertising manager for all territory outside of Atlanta.

"THE CONSTITUTION" is on sale in New York City by 2 c. in the day after issue. It can be had: Building's News Stand, Broadway and West 42nd street (Times Building corner); Shubert News Agency, at Bryant Park and Grand Central Depot.

The Constitution is not responsible for damage to property or loss of money by subscribers. Receipts given for subscription payments not in accordance with published rates are not authorized. Also not responsible for subscription payments until received at office of publisher.

Member of The Associated Press.
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.

FARMERS AND FLOODS.

Crop rotation, and the terracing of sloping lands, will stop floods at their source, or at least greatly arrest their force. F. L. Duly, an expert, writing for the Farm Journal, says most of the Mississippi floods can be thus stopped.

Mr. Duly is of the opinion that by coordination this problem can be solved to a large extent.

Not only can floods be prevented, or at least reduced to a minimum of their present destructiveness, but the farm owners will actually save millions of dollars a year by preventing the washing away of the rich top soil and fertilizer which now go down the Mississippi and other rivers by tons each year.

Both crop rotation and terracing are practiced to some extent throughout the country, of course, but their effectiveness is only a small fraction of what might be achieved. We ought to do a great deal more of it along the inland waterways of Georgia and the southeast.

To illustrate, Mr. Duly cites recent tests which show that on moderately sloping land where corn alone is grown 27.4 per cent of the rainfall runs off immediately, carrying with it much of the richness of the soil, while where corn, wheat and clover are rotated, the absorbent texture of the soil cuts the runoff to 14.1 per cent, or approximately one-half.

"In these tests corn lands permitted five inches more of the rainfall to run off than did clover land," he says.

That such a reduction is of vital importance can be seen by the fact that only one inch of run-off from the Mississippi drainage area of approximately 1,214,000 square miles, would flood the valley for 1,000 miles from its mouth in a belt ten miles wide and ten feet deep.

AVIATORS' WEATHER SERVICE.

Meteorology in aid of aviation, and marine meteorology—two of the many activities of the weather bureau of the United States department of agriculture—are discussed by Dr. C. F. Marvin, chief of the bureau, in his annual report which has just been made public.

Since 1926, according to Doctor Marvin, funds have been included in the regular appropriations of the department for assigning and maintaining on duty at every important airport one or more skilled meteorologists, whose duties require them to receive from the central organization of the weather bureau the fullest possible advice, reports, observations, etc., including forecasts and warnings, and to pass these on to pilots of airplanes at the time of and in accordance with the flight immediately in contemplation.

The basis of advice and warnings to pilots is necessarily derived from the great network of meteorological stations that has been built up by the weather bureau throughout past years. In some cases, these stations are rather widely distributed. Moreover, observations are made regularly only at 8 a. m. and 8 p. m. For the needs of aeronautics, more intensive and special stations are required, especially in certain regions. To make provisions for this 137 ground stations have been established at frequent intervals all along the airways set up by the department of commerce, and the whole machinery of operation is gradually being improved to make the service more and more effective.

There is a growing demand for four daily observations from meteorological stations over the entire globe, instead of two. The hours for these observations are quite likely to be advanced in the near future in the United States so as to occur at 1 and 7 a. m. and at 1 and 7 p. m.

A professor of the psychology department of Cornell has trained oysters to jump for food at their feeding time. We always had a suspicion at church suppers that the oyster jumped from one bowl of stew to another.

FARMING A BUSINESS.

In a recent address Nils A. Olsen, chief of the federal bureau of agricultural economics, stressed the fact that farmers must think in economic terms.

Farmers must realize, he said, that farm returns are vitally affected by economic forces; they must understand that supply and demand forces determine for any given crop the level at which products will sell, and not the cost of producing that crop; they must learn that economic conditions affecting their business do not remain static but change, and as they change they influence farm income at one time differently than at another time; and that economic forces affecting agriculture are not purely local in their operation but usually play over the whole gamut of competing territories, domestic and foreign.

"Fortunately," Mr. Olsen declared, "the economic approach is gradually taking its rightful place alongside the purely production approach in the minds of American farmers."

There is, however, abundant opportunity for further educational work in this direction. The output of the bureau of agricultural economics, as well as of the economics departments of the state agricultural colleges and experiment stations afford splendid material with which to illustrate the operation of economic forces and public policies affecting agriculture.

Mr. Olsen enumerated the bureau's annual outlook reports, the intentions-to-plant surveys, the mid-summer outlook reports and the monthly statement on the price situation as types of material which aid farmers to make adjustments in planning farm production and marketing. Many states, he said, are using this national interpretative material, together with local material, as a basis for yearly or periodical state outlook reports, and monthly state price situation statements.

"Successful agriculture," he declared, "will not be built on individual effort alone. Collective action, whether among farmers themselves or through the medium of government, will have a vital bearing on the industry. Farmers must think the spirit and philosophy of cooperation if their efforts in cooperative marketing, cooperative credit, cooperative insurance and the like are to prove successful in the highest degree. The bureau of agricultural economics is prepared to place at their disposal a fund of facts to assist farmers in their cooperative ventures."

These past several years have demonstrated as perhaps never before, that farmers are a vital part of the body politic. Their interests are deeply influenced by the conditions which affect the nation as a whole and by public policies of one kind or another.

To what extent, for example, has their prosperity been adversely affected by national and state demands with reference to the utilization of farm lands?

What do farmers today think about bringing more lands into use at a time when surpluses menace their incomes?

To what extent are farm lands bearing an undue portion of the tax burden?

What can they do to adjust tax inequalities? What bearing does the tariff have upon farm returns?

Is the tariff, as a national policy, serving to equalize opportunities?

Farmers must take their rightful place in shaping national and state policies which touch their prosperity.

EVIDENCE OF EXPANSIONS.

The enormous extension program in long-distance telephones is an evidence of expanding prosperity.

An additional expenditure of $11,042,000 for constructing these new facilities during the present year was authorized by the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

This brings the total appropriations for new construction during the present year on the longer haul telephone circuits of the Bell system to $49,038,000, as compared with $36,406,000 expended during last year, the previous record year.

This additional expenditure, the officials said, is being applied to extensions and improvements on long distance lines in all sections of the country, including three transcontinental routes.

During the first half of the present year, Southern Bell officials pointed out that telephone users increased their use of the long distance system an average of 20 per cent as compared with last year.

Estimates at the beginning of the present year called for 1,387 miles of new telephone cable construction record for a single year. This estimate is now further increased and the completion of nearly 1,600 miles is planned by the end of the present year.

The projected New York-Atlanta telephone cable, which at the beginning of the present year had reached Petersburg, Va., is being pushed southward to Charlotte, nearly across the state of North Carolina.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Rome on the Sea.

With the completion of the "Boulevard to the Sea" as the new motor road from Rome to Ostia is called, plans are being considered by Signor Mussolini for the construction of a rectilinear city between the capital and the port. The scheme provides for the building of houses, shops and public offices along the 15-mile-long road, thus linking up Rome and Ostia. Construction is to follow the line of traffic at a certain depth from the main arterial road. Inaugurated a short time ago, the "Boulevard to the Sea" is 50 feet wide and one of the finest roads in Italy. It is reserved exclusively for motor traffic, and enormous speeds can be attained without danger. All this is told in dispatches from Rome, but the same dispatches do not mention the amazement that reigns in Vatican circles. By coding this strip to the pope, it was hoped to save a semblance of the temporal power of the pontiffs. Now this possible solution also goes up in smoke.

Private Letters.

An interesting question has been raised by an action in a French court of law. Reduced to its essentials, it is whether a letter after delivery belongs to the writer or to the person to whom it is addressed and, if the latter, whether the receiver of the letter has a right to dispose of it as he wishes. The question arose in a famous writer, has two minds about the matter. In the spring of last year a publisher announced for sale by auction a manuscript of one of his works and, in addition, five private letters addressed to a literary man. M. HOLLAND was angry; he felt that the publisher was selling with regard to the sale in Berlin of art treasures which had formerly belonged to them—he obtained an injunction to stop the sale. The letters, he said, were his property. He demanded damages of 200,000 francs. There are few who will not agree with M. Holland that the publication of one's intimate correspondence without permission or the passing of one's private letters from hand to hand in an auction room, is one of the worst penalties of fame. Yet it is difficult to see how it can be avoided. The only solution seems to lie with the writer.

(Copyright, 1928, for The Constitution.)

Health Talks

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY

PLEASANT WAY TO DISPOSE OF BAD TONSILS.

September 28 we gave some of the advantages of the new endothermy methods of treatment of enlarged and infected tonsils, as this had been described by a specialist who had extensive experience in the desiccation method.

Here are some additional points of practical value, furnished by a physician who is using the method in his routine office practice:

1. Treatment of tonsils by endothermy (desiccation) is permanent in effect.

2. Diseased (infected) tonsils as well as enlarged (hypertrophied) tonsils may now be removed en masse.

3. No pain is felt during or after treatment.

4. No anesthetic either general or local is necessary.

5. I have treated children as young as 6 years with excellent results.

6. Lymphatic tissue of the tonsil is converted into fibrous tissue. Fibrous tissue is non-infectious.

7. Current of 2,000,000 oscillations is responsible for "cold cautery" effect. Hence no burn or pain.

8. Unilateral current seals superficial vessels or lymphatic channels and prevents the absorption of infectious material.

9. Patients may eat anything and carry on their usual work while undergoing the treatments.

10. Treatments are usually given weekly, should the removal of tonsils be a desiccation continues fully a month after treatment.

I called the September 28 talk "The Tonsil Problem." Of course, I meant bad tonsils, not a bad problem. As this desiccation treatment becomes better known and more widely used by progressive physicians, the only problem seems to be the finding of a physician who is forward looking and well enough informed in the progress of the desiccation method to give the benefit of a boon such as this.

These are now physicians in every community who are equipped to employ endothermy or endothermy. If a reader is interested and seeks such treatment, the best plan is for him or her to write to me for a list of names of those who are so equipped, with recommendation one who uses these methods.

(Copyright, 1928, for The Constitution.)

HOOVER SHIP SAILS FOR PERUVIAN PORT

Continued from First Page.

Maryland and a conference with President Ayora and ministers of finance and foreign affairs, Mr. Hoover began his journey to Lima, where he is scheduled to arrive Wednesday.

On the 29th of September, the battleship was a continuation of the expression of friendship which the people and officials of Ecuador showed to the United States.

At dawn today the capital was celebrating the visit of the president-elect in chivalrous Latin fashion. The ball at the Union club was still in progress and crowds wandered through the streets throughout the night after a happy holiday on which the natives poured out their enthusiasm to Hoover.

Shortly after midnight, Mr. and Mrs. Hoover and Allan Hoover visited the ball. Allan Hoover, who was with them, got some rest after the strenuous day. An atmosphere of generous cordiality prevailed throughout the capital.

At one time the Hoover party were invited to dine by friendly strangers at cafes and restaurants. The carnival spirit was supreme, but there was no sign of the "big game" which followed Hoover's arrival was strong in the memory of the natives, and the official reception merely added to the unfortunate celebration.

President Ayora and Hoover talked in companionable fashion, with the Ecuadorian executive addressing Hoover in long, halting English. Mrs. Hoover and Madame Ayora also conversed. Familiar strains of the Star Spangled Banner and loud cheers followed Hoover wherever he went, and a curious crowd, eager to see the first United States president-elect to visit their country, swarmed around him.

At one time, Mr. and Mrs. Hoover had reviewed the parade of military, firemen and school children from the balcony at military headquarters.

After an inspection of the battleship

Atlanta today is the south's most outstanding aviation hub. It is the air mail crossroads—

In this latest of transport services its potentialities as a future air port of practically immeasurable economic importance is obvious to any student of the city's geography, for distribution, and of its financial, industrial and commercial importance.

But there must be a thorough overhauling of the machinery as well as its administration, else we will not merely lose what has been acquired, but will utterly fail to further capitalize natural advantages and opportunities.

It is best to talk plain about it—It is a problem that involves too much economically to either mince words or to display indifference.

The city of Atlanta and the county of Fulton have combined in spending a great deal of money and labor on this Hapeville field.

It was acquired, by the generous offer of the Candler interests, on a long term option at a price far below its present value as acreage, without taking into account values accruing from the uses to which it has been converted, and the large amount of money expended upon improvements, and in the paving of approaches.

At the time—several years ago when commercial aviation was in its infancy—it was considered the most desirable site available.

The city and county did not have the money nor the inclination to purchase a site outright at the time, and the generous offer of the owners was one of the controlling factors in its acquisition.

The appropriations that have thus far been made, in cash and labor—both of which are supplied by taxpayers—were necessary in order to place Atlanta on the rapidly developing air routes.

But the field today—despite the disadvantages of location—is far from standard, and as a real, properly balanced and adequate "air port," is lamentably lacking.

Then listen—

There must be further large expenditures of money to make it compare to federal requirements, or to measure up with other air ports under construction in the south, as in Birmingham, New Orleans, in Dallas, and so on.

That required money is not in sight, nor is there any considerable enthusiastic official disposition to "find" it under existing circumstances.

There is no definite plan to even purchase the property under the option.

In my judgment neither the county nor the city authorities are going very much farther with the project until there is a complete revision of Atlanta's whole air port program.

There must be a reason. There must be a reaction somewhere.

Study for a moment and see if these are not the troubles—

Is it, for instance, true that the taxpayers of Atlanta and of Fulton county have been pouring money into the building and maintenance of a landing field for the benefit of private interests?

Is it true that Candler field is dominated by private money-making interests that have not contributed to its physical development and do not intend to do so?

If so, its administration—a municipal enterprise—is haphazard, unsystematic, economically unsound, out of joint with other municipal activities, and wholly wrong.

That's plain English!

Let us take some other instances—

The city water works system, which is one of the best in the country, is expanded and improved by the taxation of property-owning citizens, either directly or indirectly.

We buy the services of government with taxes, and we therefore buy protection from disease through pure water and protection from fire by an adequate supply.

As consumers in our homes and businesses, however, we pay the city, and a close conference with Hoover, which was understood to be in regard to a proposed extension of the airport in the United States for internal improvements, the Ecuadorian officials left the battleship.

President-elect and Mrs. Hoover spent the night at the beautiful military palace at Guayaquil after a great welcome at the first capital visited by the United States.

At one time the Hoover party were invited to dine by friendly strangers at cafes and restaurants. The carnival spirit was supreme, but there was no sign of the "big game" which followed Hoover's arrival was strong in the memory of the natives, and the official reception merely added to the unfortunate celebration.

President Ayora and Hoover talked in companionable fashion, with the Ecuadorian executive addressing Hoover in long, halting English. Mrs. Hoover and Madame Ayora also conversed. Familiar strains of the Star Spangled Banner and loud cheers followed Hoover wherever he went, and a curious crowd, eager to see the first United States president-elect to visit their country, swarmed around him.

At one time, Mr. and Mrs. Hoover had reviewed the parade of military, firemen and school children from the balcony at military headquarters.

After an inspection of the battleship

Just in Passing

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMAN.

Atlanta today is the south's most outstanding aviation hub. It is the air mail crossroads—

In every city the size of Atlanta a dependable and adequate transportation system is as necessary as lights and power.

And yet, in exchange for the franchise we require not only a percentage of the gross income, in addition to property and corporation taxes, but we further require the street car company to do at its own expense a large percentage of the curb-to-curb paving on streets on which cars are operated.

Despite the fact that the street car company paves at its own expense for the convenient vehicular travel of thousands of people daily who do not spend a dime with the transportation company, the plan is economically sound so long as the city demands a dependable service and then protects it.

The Atlanta Terminal station serves Atlanta, and helps to facilitate this, as the rail transportation hub of the southeast, but the city of Atlanta did not build, nor rebuild, nor does it maintain that great property.

A great new depot is to take the place of the old Union depot, which is owned by the state of Georgia, but the state of Georgia is not building it. The railroad system using it is building it at its own expense, in addition to the rentals it pays the state on its leases. The plan is sound.

The federal government conducts its great postal service in the interest of the public but it pays for its land upon which its buildings are erected also, at federal taxpayers' expense; and it pays rent for every building and every store room it occupies which it does not own.

The state of Louisiana owns a great dock system at New Orleans, as does Alabama at Mobile, and they have made them outstanding gulf ports, but do not think for a moment that storage, and refrigeration and dockage, and so on, are all "free" simply to encourage shipping expansions.

Such a policy would be too foolhardy for serious thought.

Now let's get down to brass tacks. Candler field, as a municipal air port, should be completed and placed on a parity with other municipal activities, a field superintendent appointed, and aviation schools, commercialized jitney flying, and amateur flying inhibited; or it should be purchased by the city and county and leased to such private interests, and a thoroughly standardized air port, second to none in America, constructed on a site nearer to the heart of the city—and this regardless of costs—wisely authorized—even if it should require a million dollars.

To be frank about it, Candler field is too far from the center of Atlanta, and from the Atlanta postoffice, to give the best or even entirely satisfactory results in the handling of passengers, air mail and parcels.

With the rapid increase in traffic congestion on Stewart street, and also on Lee street through East Point and College Park, the time required to reach the center of Atlanta from the field, by an automobile traveling at regulation speed, is far greater than when the field was first staked.

The fact is, one can fly from Macon or from Chattanooga to the field almost as quickly as the time required to reach an Atlanta hotel after the trip.

In this discussion it has not been my purpose to criticize anybody, either those connected with the field's administration, or those splendid young aviators, and groups who are using it for private interests.

I do criticize the existing system, and the resulting situation; and if I was a member of council or of the county board, I would demand a revision of the whole Atlanta air port system before I voted for further appropriations.

In the meantime the completion, at the earliest possible moment, of one of America's greatest air ports in the Atlanta zone, is one of the most imperative economic necessities at this time.

It is a problem that cannot and must not be temporized with.

Mr. Hoover has been deeply impressed by the kind reception in Ecuador. Fletcher said, "Long live Ecuador."

The crowd answered with shouts of "Long live Hoover!"

SPANISH NEWSPAPER ENVOIS OF TOUR.

Madrid, December 2.—(AP)—La Libertad, a liberal newspaper, commenting upon the good-will tour of Latin America of President-elect Hoover, expresses fear that Uncle Sam is to abandon the old world for the new.

The direction of the foreign policy of the United States is both contradictory and disconcerting," says its editorial.

Having discovered that Mr. Hoover's aims principally concern the American continent, we can only assume that we are practically faced with an open break with Europe carrying with it a policy of separation to the very extreme and with most serious consequences.

The brothers were met by a tremendous offensive against Europe and wants to defeat and displace it in Asia and Latin America. This alone is the truth.

"Wall street is ever bountiful: the gold runs in torrents from Alaska to Rio Grande. The enormous wealth of the people is felt capable of conquering the world. Nothing, nobody can curb the enslaver of the world."

Find Capitalist.

Munich, Mich. December 2.—(AP)—A nine-day search for August Kleist, wealthy Pontiac business man, ended today when his body was found in a dense swamp on the edge of the Creighton swamp. A group of the 175 men who were holding and other equipment of the expedition in the wilderness. All members of the royal party were the carb in which they had lived in the bush country. The prince and a

At midnight the gates, always closed at night, stood open. Closed cars were arriving and departing every few minutes. Two gorgeous flunkies in the red royal livery stood at a door in the north wing of the palace, the first entrance to the king's private apartments.

In the slight breeze, the royal standard was flapping lazily at its masthead. This bit of hunting is the magnet for the eyes of the crowd, for when the sovereign of England dies, the first warning is the lowering of his personal flag to half mast, even before the dreaded bulletin is posted on the gates and the mourning bells begin to toll throughout the great grey city on the Thames.

Death to Be Broadcast.

There is no authentic news from within the palace other than admitted rumors. Until the coronation of the palace view has always been apparently optimistic. In the absence of any more definite statement from the sick room the feeling has gained currency that the king's two weeks' fight against the disease, although it has checked the spread of pleurisy, has left him too weak to survive the crisis through which he is now passing.

It is emphasized, however, that if all hope vanishes, the fact will be admitted by the doctors through some phrase as that the king is sinking and that the morning's bulletin does not indicate a necessarily fatal outcome.

The attitude at the palace since this bulletin was issued, however, shows that matters have become worse since midnight rather than better.

York to Be Regent.

In the event of the king's death, the crown would pass to the Duke of York temporary regent of the kingdom. This would be necessary because the Prince of Wales' absence from the country.

When the fast cruiser Enterprise, in which the prince embarked today from Dar-Es-Salaam, reaches Alexandria, Egypt, where the prince will probably be flying the royal standard and Edward will step ashore not as the Prince of Wales, but as Edward VII, to entrain for Alexandria, Egypt, whence the cruiser Frobenius will rush him to Brindisi, Italy. From Dar-Es-Salaam to Suez is about 1,000 miles. From Suez to Alexandria is slightly more than 200 miles, and from that port to Brindisi is about 950 miles as the crow flies.

A special train will carry the prince from Brindisi to Calais, a distance of about 1,200 miles.

From there, if King George is no more, the fleet will escort the new king across the channel to England and will land at Dover, probably on December 15.

Official Denial of Death.

There were no afternoon newspaper bulletins yesterday; yet it was remarkable how people of the metropolis sensed the actual situation from the disquieting bulletin in the Sunday morning newspapers.

So strong was the prevalent rumor this morning that the king was dead that official denial had to be issued at the palace yesterday. It was located all day long the largest crowds that have gathered there since the king became ill surrounded the gates.

The spectacle in the May 1918 night and in the early hours of the morning is an eerie one. Scores of cars stood deserted around the Victoria memorial, which is located in an open space facing the palace and their occupants were mingled with the silently waiting throng around the palace gates.

People seem awed and dazed by the calamity which they fear. There is practically no talking.

There are a few extra police on guard. A line of people a hundred yards long wishing to read the bulletin on the gates is kept moving and in order by the police.

No news machinery exists for distributing the Sunday night bulletin, and the vast majority of the millions will not know that King George's illness has turned for the worse until they get this morning's newspapers.

SONS OF KING RUSHING HOME.

London, December 2.—(AP)—Two sons of King George tonight were well started on their homeward journey from southeastern Africa. The Prince of Wales, because of the greater accessibility of the Tanganyika district where he was hunting, had to wait the first notice of the critical nature of his father's illness, sailed from Dar-Es-Salaam at 10:30 this morning.

His younger brother, Prince Edward, emerged from the wilds only today at Sakania, in the Belgian Congo on the border of northern Rhodesia, and he is hoped to reach the coast by the dash to the coast which is the first leg of his homeward journey.

Oh! Look! Mothers and Girls This 24-in. Marvelous Doll! This Is the Mama Doll You Have Been Dreaming About!

FREE

Here Is the Chance to Make Those Dreams Come True!

Hello! Little Girls!

I am "Princess Ann." I can talk, and I have sleeping eyes.

"I bring joy into the homes of little girls. If you really want me to bring joy and happiness into your home, The Atlanta Constitution makes it easy for you to secure me FREE for only a few moments of your time. Take advantage of its great offer at once. Then you will have me all your own. Won't we then have lots of fun? I'm all dressed up in my brand-new clothes, just waiting for you."

"Princess Ann"

Talks, and has sleeping eyes. Her clothes are beautiful, but you can take them off and make new ones whenever you like.

She Is 24 Inches Tall and a Real Beauty

YOU CAN HAVE HER FOR YOUR VERY OWN
WITHOUT ANY COST
EASY TO WIN!

COLLECT NO MONEY, JUST SECURE TWO NEW SUBSCRIBERS FOR SIX MONTHS TO DAILY AND SUNDAY

ATLANTA CONSTITUTION
DELIVERED TO THE HOME DAILY AND SUNDAY
AT 20 CENTS PER WEEK
PAYABLE TO OUR CARRIER

This applies to Atlanta and suburbs, otherwise it will take three new Six-months' subscriptions.

See This Wonderful Doll On Display at Constitution Office, Forsyth and Alabama Streets

Anyone may earn a "Princess Ann" doll. The offer is open to boys, girls, men and women of all ages. Boys and girls who live in other towns and cities where the Daily and Sunday Constitution is sold and delivered by local news dealers are eligible.

Here Are the Terms of the Offer. READ CAREFULLY!

Two new subscriptions to the daily and Sunday Constitution are required, each for a term of six months, subscribers to pay the carrier at the rate of 20c a week, or 90c a month.

This applies to the city of Atlanta and nearby suburbs. For other points in Georgia and adjoining states where we have a carrier delivery service, three subscriptions are required. The extra subscription for constants out of town is required to defray expense of packing and delivery of the doll to the contestant.

We investigate the validity of the order, and the subscriber's responsibility and reserve the right to accept or reject any subscription order at our option for the city and suburbs of Atlanta, and the local dealer outside of Atlanta will exercise the same right.

Clip out the coupon blank below and bring or mail to The Atlanta Constitution, circulation department, Atlanta. A subscription book with all the necessary instructions for securing the subscriptions will be delivered to those who present the enrollment blank in person.

Those sending the enrollment blank by mail to The Constitution will receive the subscription book and necessary instructions by return mail. CUT OUT BLANK AND BRING OR MAIL TO-DAY.

BOYS!

The Atlanta Constitution has a few "EXPIRING WAGONS" on hand. Any boy who will secure three new six months' subscriptions, acceptable to The Constitution, or its out-of-town dealer, after verifying, can have one of these wagons. The wagon will be delivered at The Constitution office, a city contestants, and sent by express, charges collect, to out-of-town contestants.

R. F. D. Residents

Cut out the coupon, sending to The Constitution with your route number, and you will receive by return mail an offer that will enable you to win "Princess Ann."

"Princess Ann" Doll Coupon

Atlanta Constitution,
Circulation Dept.
Atlanta, Ga.

Send a subscription book and instructions for getting a "Princess Ann" doll without paying or collecting any money. I promise to abide by the requirements and verification decision of your offer.

NAME
NO. ST.
P. O.
STATE

A Suggestion to Mother, Father, Aunts and Uncles

This is your opportunity to get a beautiful life-size baby doll, 24 inches tall, for Christmas for the little daughter or niece. The doll can be had immediately after orders have been verified and accepted.

This is a big beautiful Baby Doll with composition unbreakable head, arms and legs, sleeping eyes and eyelashes, open mouth, showing teeth and tongue, mohair wig.

Dressed in lace trimmed organdy frock, with a contrasting colored yoke trimmed with lace and embroidered medallion—with lace trimmed and shirred organdy bonnet to match. Also has bloomer combination, knit socks, slippers, and is a marvelous gift for any little girl, young or old.

Tech High To Play Riverdale or Gordon for G. I. A. A. Title

Bottomley Chosen Most Valuable Player in National League

Georgia Field Trials To Open In Waynesboro

Class Above Average But Entries Are Fewer; Some Rule Changes Made.

BY DICK HAWKINS.

Waynesboro, Ga., December 2.—(Special).—If some expert field trials should be about to manufacture ideal conditions for the 1928 Georgia state field trials, no better job could be done than Nature has accomplished.

After a 48-hour rain, the trial grounds that have been bone-dry for many weeks, are saturated to the point that makes perfect conditions for bird finding. The birds are as plentiful as the natives hereabouts have seen them in many years and the weather is just cool enough and not too cool.

The other factors that go to make a successful trial are as thoroughly good as nature's works. The dogs here are not as many as some trials have seen, but the class is far above the average. The gallery will be fully as large as usual if not larger and the stakes are as large as ever.

All-Age Stake.

When the members' all-age stakes start tomorrow morning at 8:30, there will be at least a score of all-age dogs in the field ready to put down and indications tonight are that at least twice that many dog lovers will be astride their steeds to watch the work of the blueblodes.

This year, under the new rules, the members of all-age stakes will furnish much more of interest than heretofore the all-age dogs have been down for one-half hour in each race and with bird conditions even at the best, it is not always that the gallery sees much bird work in the short period. This season every all-age dog will be down one hour and at the end of that period the judges will have some definite idea of his worth, if any.

In the all-age stakes there will be no second series races unless two or more dogs score so high that they are alike that another race is necessary. That is hardly likely with one hour heats upon initial placement.

One-Hour Heats.

The judges, W. G. Hundley, of West Virginia, and W. L. McElmurray, of Waynesboro, both expressed their joy tonight that the initial heats will be of one-hour duration. The rule will make the judging more simple and more accurate, surely.

The usual "gang" is here for the festivities with a few new additions, of course, the whole Waynesboro crowd is present led by Jim Bell, president of the Georgia association; "Big Charlie" Skinner, Joe Reynolds and the rest of the gang from the "big little city" are at the hotel tonight extending official and unofficial welcome to the visitors.

From Atlanta there are a heap of folks. About dusk the big sedan of John J. Woodside rolled up to the Anthony Wayne hotel where J. Mrs. Woodside, their beautiful daughter, Margaret, and Mrs. George Nicholson, a bit later Mr. and Mrs. Ed Daley and Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Keeler arrived to augment the Atlanta contingent. Early today the "old guard" from Atlanta arrived. Scott Hudson, Phil Essig and John K. Otley are all at hand with their dogs and ready to ride.

The dog register carries many famous names both of the past and present. The notable crowd on the present with Jim Crowell on the Hudson string. One national winner is ready to go in the all-age stakes. Speaking of the league is Alphonse Chumy, a setter, that has won many stakes in national and regional trials.

Y-CHURCH LOOP LEAGUE STARTS PLAYING TODAY

Basketball—king of the south's indoor winter sport, will be in full swing this week with games being played practically every night. First of the many leagues to go into action will be the Sewanee league of the Y-Church Athletic association group, which will play a series of four games each Monday night throughout the season, starting tonight at the Central Presbyterian church.

Many of the stars of this league are playing their first season. Decatur Presbyterian church's team, winners of the cup last season, have again entered the league and are expected to be a strong contender for leading honors. Another club that promises to dispute the superiority of any club in the league is the Alpha class, which has been greatly strengthened by the addition of several outstanding high school stars.

The complete schedule follows:

Associate Reform Presbyterian vs. Calvary Aves. 8:30 p. m.

Z. O. Y. Class (Central Baptist) vs. Alpha Class (Wesley Memorial), 7:00 p. m.

Decatur Presbyterian vs. Central Presbyterian, 8:00 p. m.

Patullo Memorial vs. Vanguard Class (Gordon Street Baptist), 8:30 p. m.

17-Jewel Waltham—For Men

$40 Value $27.50

USE YOUR CREDIT

DIAMOND JEWELRY COMPANY 5 EDGEWOOD AVE.

West Travels East and Beats Best Atlantic Has To Offer

PENNANT WINNERS

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Except in the south and far west, the football season has closed with a bigger shakeup in the championship list than any time in years. In major ranks, Illinois is one of the few to retain title honors by again winning the Big Ten championship.

Georgia Tech, which topped the Southern conference in 1927, appeared headed for the peak again, even though final games this week may force the Tornado to share honors with Florida's unbeaten team.

Winners for 1928 and 1927 follow:

1928	1927
East (best record)	Yale, Pittsburgh
Mid-west (best record)	Illinois, Minnesota
Big Ten	Illinois
Nebraska	Nebraska
Missouri Valley Conference	Missouri
Southern Conference	Georgia Tech
Southern L. A. A.	Mississippi
Southwestern Conference	Texas A. G.
Rocky Mountain Conference	Colorado Aggies
Pacific Coast Conference	Stanford, U. S. C.
New England "Little 3"	Wesleyan
N. Y. State Conference	Albany
Tri-State Conference	Geneva (Pa.)
Michigan I. A. A.	Alma
Michigan State Conference	Ypsilanti
Iowa I. A. A.	State Teachers
Mid-western Conference	Coe
Little "Nineteen"	Milliken-East. Tech
North Central Conference	North Dakota
North Ohio Conference	Whitman
Pacific Northwest Conference	Occidental
Southern Calif. Conference	St. Marys
Far Western Conference

Lochinvars of South Woo Honors Saturday

Tech Takes on Old Rival; All Conference Elevens To Close Season Except Jackets.

BY UNITED PRESS.

Football Lochinvars of the southern conference trot out Saturday for their last gesture of the season. With the race coming to a close, it is expected that all the teams will throw that last bit of energy into the woeing of honors.

Tennessee has her chance to show that she has a team worthy of conference honors, although tied by Kentucky. If Florida wins the game at Knoxville, she's got to do some tall reaching.

Georgia Tech, so far undefeated, takes on her old rival, the Georgia Bulldogs, in Atlanta. Georgia went bowling along last season, upsetting ever, thing. Then came the dawn—at Tech's home game ended in a scoreless tie. "Swanky" having been beaten by Notre Dame and tied by Vanderbilt, but it didn't keep the Tornado from spinning the game from the "big little city" are at the hotel tonight extending official and unofficial welcome to the visitors.

From Atlanta there are a heap of folks. About dusk the big sedan of John J. Woodside rolled up to the Anthony Wayne hotel where J. Mrs. Woodside, their beautiful daughter, Margaret, and Mrs. George Nicholson, a bit later Mr. and Mrs. Ed Daley and Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Keeler arrived to augment the Atlanta contingent. Early today the "old guard" from Atlanta arrived. Scott Hudson, Phil Essig and John K. Otley are all at hand with their dogs and ready to ride.

The dog register carries many famous names both of the past and present. The notable crowd on the present with Jim Crowell on the Hudson string. One national winner is ready to go in the all-age stakes. Speaking of the league is Alphonse Chumy, a setter, that has won many stakes in national and regional trials.

The dog register carries many famous names both of the past and present. The notable crowd on the present with Jim Crowell on the Hudson string. One national winner is ready to go in the all-age stakes. Speaking of the league is Alphonse Chumy, a setter, that has won many stakes in national and regional trials.

The dog register carries many famous names both of the past and present. The notable crowd on the present with Jim Crowell on the Hudson string. One national winner is ready to go in the all-age stakes. Speaking of the league is Alphonse Chumy, a setter, that has won many stakes in national and regional trials.

The dog register carries many famous names both of the past and present. The notable crowd on the present with Jim Crowell on the Hudson string. One national winner is ready to go in the all-age stakes. Speaking of the league is Alphonse Chumy, a setter, that has won many stakes in national and regional trials.

The dog register carries many famous names both of the past and present. The notable crowd on the present with Jim Crowell on the Hudson string. One national winner is ready to go in the all-age stakes. Speaking of the league is Alphonse Chumy, a setter, that has won many stakes in national and regional trials.

The dog register carries many famous names both of the past and present. The notable crowd on the present with Jim Crowell on the Hudson string. One national winner is ready to go in the all-age stakes. Speaking of the league is Alphonse Chumy, a setter, that has won many stakes in national and regional trials.

The dog register carries many famous names both of the past and present. The notable crowd on the present with Jim Crowell on the Hudson string. One national winner is ready to go in the all-age stakes. Speaking of the league is Alphonse Chumy, a setter, that has won many stakes in national and regional trials.

The dog register carries many famous names both of the past and present. The notable crowd on the present with Jim Crowell on the Hudson string. One national winner is ready to go in the all-age stakes. Speaking of the league is Alphonse Chumy, a setter, that has won many stakes in national and regional trials.

The dog register carries many famous names both of the past and present. The notable crowd on the present with Jim Crowell on the Hudson string. One national winner is ready to go in the all-age stakes. Speaking of the league is Alphonse Chumy, a setter, that has won many stakes in national and regional trials.

The dog register carries many famous names both of the past and present. The notable crowd on the present with Jim Crowell on the Hudson string. One national winner is ready to go in the all-age stakes. Speaking of the league is Alphonse Chumy, a setter, that has won many stakes in national and regional trials.

The dog register carries many famous names both of the past and present. The notable crowd on the present with Jim Crowell on the Hudson string. One national winner is ready to go in the all-age stakes. Speaking of the league is Alphonse Chumy, a setter, that has won many stakes in national and regional trials.

The dog register carries many famous names both of the past and present. The notable crowd on the present with Jim Crowell on the Hudson string. One national winner is ready to go in the all-age stakes. Speaking of the league is Alphonse Chumy, a setter, that has won many stakes in national and regional trials.

The dog register carries many famous names both of the past and present. The notable crowd on the present with Jim Crowell on the Hudson string. One national winner is ready to go in the all-age stakes. Speaking of the league is Alphonse Chumy, a setter, that has won many stakes in national and regional trials.

The dog register carries many famous names both of the past and present. The notable crowd on the present with Jim Crowell on the Hudson string. One national winner is ready to go in the all-age stakes. Speaking of the league is Alphonse Chumy, a setter, that has won many stakes in national and regional trials.

The dog register carries many famous names both of the past and present. The notable crowd on the present with Jim Crowell on the Hudson string. One national winner is ready to go in the all-age stakes. Speaking of the league is Alphonse Chumy, a setter, that has won many stakes in national and regional trials.

The dog register carries many famous names both of the past and present. The notable crowd on the present with Jim Crowell on the Hudson string. One national winner is ready to go in the all-age stakes. Speaking of the league is Alphonse Chumy, a setter, that has won many stakes in national and regional trials.

Florida Leads Scoring Table In Conference

BEST IN BIG LEAGUE

BY HORACE RENEGER.

The rambling Alligators of the University of Florida not only have forged to the front as the leading football scoring team of the United States but have swept almost all games played solely within the Southern conference.

With 324 points in all games played, the Gainesville machine is leading its nearest rival, New York university, by eight points, while within the Southern conference it has counted 225 against 174 for Alabama, its nearest opposition.

In games played against all opposition, Tulane is the nearest to Florida in the south, Billy Banker and mates standing with 262 points in all games while Tennessee, led by the great Eugene McVey, halfback, is next with 262 points in all games.

The scoring table of 14 of the 22 teams of the conference is closed for the year while Florida, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana State, Georgia Tech, Clemson, Georgia and North Carolina each have one game remaining to be played.

MISSOURI VALLEY EVEN WITH BIG SIX.

Kansas City, December 2.—(AP).—The old maxim, "he who laughs last, laughs best," applies well to the four schools left out when the Missouri Valley conference dissolved last winter and the supposedly stronger members banded together as the Big Six.

Drake, Washington, Grinnell and Oklahoma Aggies—the quartet which still retained the old Missouri Valley name and went forward with plans to form a new compact circuit—won as many games from former conference members as it lost. One inter-conference tilt was a tie.

But in maintaining this equal standard, the bigoted fell on Drake and Grinnell. Drake won two games from Big Six teams, defeating Iowa State 18 to 0 and Missouri 6 to 0. Grinnell won from Iowa State 6 to 0. Washington and Kansas 7 to 0 but the Jayhawkers defeated Grinnell 14 to 0 and the Kansas Aggies and Oklahoma turned back Oklahoma Aggies, the former by a touchdown margin, the latter 46 to 0.

Nebraska, champion of the Big Six, with a record of five victories and no losses, did not meet any former conference members.

Official formation of a new circuit, bearing the old Missouri Valley name, is expected soon to replace the loose organization which functioned through the football season just ended. Butler, of Indianapolis, Ind., and the University of Arkansas have declined to join the Missouri Valley group, but other invitations undoubtedly will be issued if not all members of the new group may be enlisted in time to start in eight starts each.

High scoring honors go to New York university with 316 points, Georgia Tech with 225, Tulane and Bates finished their seasons without scoring a point. The University of Pittsburgh holds the best defensive record in the season by allowing only 15 points in nine games.

The records of representative group of eastern colleges follow:

Team	W	L	T	D	Pts.
Boston College	9	0	0	0	203
Villanova	7	0	1	0	143
Princeton	7	0	1	0	125
Pennsylvania	8	1	0	0	271
Carnegie Tech	8	1	0	0	172
LaFayette	6	1	2	0	287
Princeton	8	2	0	0	216
New York university	8	2	0	0	316
Georgetown	8	2	0	0	289
West Virginia	8	2	0	0	182
Harvard	7	2	1	0	266
Brown	6	2	1	0	177
Yale	5	3	1	0	211
Cornell	3	3	2	0	72
Dartmouth	3	4	0	0	103
Syracuse	4	4	1	0	138
Penn State	3	5	1	0	93
Johns Hopkins	2	5	2	0	117
Colgate	2	5	2	0	112

FOUR UNDEFEATED ELEVEN'S RECORD.

New York, December 2.—(United Press).—Boston college and Detroit university are the first two major football elevens to complete their seasons without a defeat or tie.

Florida and Georgia Tech are the only other major elevens with perfect records, but Florida made Tennessee next Saturday and Georgia Tech meets Georgia the same day and will take part in the Tournament of Roses same New Year's day.

The four undefeated major teams follow:

Team	W	L	T	D	Pts.
Boston College	9	0	0	0	203
Detroit	9	0	0	0	277
Florida	8	0	0	0	225
Georgia Tech	8	0	0	0	225

Cardinal Carlin Of Army in '29

New York, December 2.—(AP).—Christian Keener (Red) Cardin, of Maryland, the Army's outstanding football star and an all-American backfield candidate, will captain West Point's team in 1929.

The red-headed flash, whose broken field running and passing have thrilled the biggest crowds of the eastern football season, was elected today to succeed Mortimer E. Sprague, the Texas tackle, who led the Army in a gallant but losing battle with Stanford yesterday. Cardin was the unanimous choice of the West Point "A" men to spend the day resting at Briar cliff Lodge.

Stanford and Oregon Aggies Show Versatility That Cannot Be Matched.

BY GRANTLAND RICE.

New York, December 2.—(Special).—There was a time when the east took the football claims of the Pacific coast somewhat lightly. When eastern teams went west and took their beating, which they usually did, there was the old claim of the New York trip and different weather conditions. But this time the far west has come to Atlantic coast and continued the scaling, making it even more decisive. These far-western teams have now beaten eastern teams on both coasts, the Pacific and the Atlantic, and having run out of ocean they are now waiting for the next rebuttal the east will have to offer.

Oregon State and Stanford, by smothering both New York and the Army, rated among the strongest eastern teams, have now shifted the burden of proof on the east. In these last games of the season, the two far-western teams played faster football, harder football and a much more interesting variety of football to look at.

Attacks Versatile.

Florida Leads Scoring Table In Conference

BEST IN BIG LEAGUE

BY HORACE RENEGER.

The rambling Alligators of the University of Florida not only have forged to the front as the leading football scoring team of the United States but have swept almost all games played solely within the Southern conference.

With 324 points in all games played, the Gainesville machine is leading its nearest rival, New York university, by eight points, while within the Southern conference it has counted 225 against 174 for Alabama, its nearest opposition.

In games played against all opposition, Tulane is the nearest to Florida in the south, Billy Banker and mates standing with 262 points in all games while Tennessee, led by the great Eugene McVey, halfback, is next with 262 points in all games.

The scoring table of 14 of the 22 teams of the conference is closed for the year while Florida, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana State, Georgia Tech, Clemson, Georgia and North Carolina each have one game remaining to be played.

MISSOURI VALLEY EVEN WITH BIG SIX.

Kansas City, December 2.—(AP).—The old maxim, "he who laughs last, laughs best," applies well to the four schools left out when the Missouri Valley conference dissolved last winter and the supposedly stronger members banded together as the Big Six.

Drake, Washington, Grinnell and Oklahoma Aggies—the quartet which still retained the old Missouri Valley name and went forward with plans to form a new compact circuit—won as many games from former conference members as it lost. One inter-conference tilt was a tie.

But in maintaining this equal standard, the bigoted fell on Drake and Grinnell. Drake won two games from Big Six teams, defeating Iowa State 18 to 0 and Missouri 6 to 0. Grinnell won from Iowa State 6 to 0. Washington and Kansas 7 to 0 but the Jayhawkers defeated Grinnell 14 to 0 and the Kansas Aggies and Oklahoma turned back Oklahoma Aggies, the former by a touchdown margin, the latter 46 to 0.

Nebraska, champion of the Big Six, with a record of five victories and no losses, did not meet any former conference members.

Official formation of a new circuit, bearing the old Missouri Valley name, is expected soon to replace the loose organization which functioned through the football season just ended. Butler, of Indianapolis, Ind., and the University of Arkansas have declined to join the Missouri Valley group, but other invitations undoubtedly will be issued if not all members of the new group may be enlisted in time to start in eight starts each.

High scoring honors go to New York university with 316 points, Georgia Tech with 225, Tulane and Bates finished their seasons without scoring a point. The University of Pittsburgh holds the best defensive record in the season by allowing only 15 points in nine games.

The records of representative group of eastern colleges follow:

Team	W	L	T	D	Pts.
Boston College	9	0	0	0	203
Villanova	7	0	1	0	143
Princeton	7	0	1	0	125
Pennsylvania	8	1	0	0	271
Carnegie Tech	8	1	0	0	172
LaFayette	6	1	2	0	287
Princeton	8	2	0	0	216
New York university	8	2	0	0	316
Georgetown	8	2	0	0	289
West Virginia	8	2	0	0	182
Harvard	7	2	1	0	266
Brown	6	2	1	0	177
Yale	5	3	1	0	211
Cornell	3	3	2	0	72
Dartmouth	3	4	0	0	103
Syracuse	4	4	1	0	138
Penn State	3	5	1	0	93
Johns Hopkins	2	5	2	0	117
Colgate	2	5	2	0	112

FOUR UNDEFEATED ELEVEN'S RECORD.

New York, December 2.—(United Press).—Boston college and Detroit university are the first two major football elevens to complete their seasons without a defeat or tie.

Florida and Georgia Tech are the only other major elevens with perfect records, but Florida made Tennessee next Saturday and Georgia Tech meets Georgia the same day and will take part in the Tournament of Roses same New Year's day.

The four undefeated major teams follow:

Team	W	L	T	D	Pts.
Boston College	9	0	0	0	203
Detroit	9	0	0	0	277
Florida	8	0	0	0	225
Georgia Tech	8	0	0	0	225

Cardinal Carlin Of Army in '29

New York, December 2.—(AP).—Christian Keener (Red) Cardin, of Maryland, the Army's outstanding football star and an all-American backfield candidate, will captain West Point's team in 1929.

The red-headed flash, whose broken field running and passing have thrilled the biggest crowds of the eastern football season, was elected today to succeed Mortimer E. Sprague, the Texas tackle, who led the Army in a gallant but losing battle with Stanford yesterday. Cardin was the unanimous choice of the West Point "A" men to spend the day resting at Briar cliff Lodge.

Stanford and Oregon Aggies Show Versatility That Cannot Be Matched.

BY GRANTLAND RICE.

New York, December 2.—(Special).—There was a time when the east took the football claims of the Pacific coast somewhat lightly. When eastern teams went west and took their beating, which they usually did, there was the old claim of the New York trip and different weather conditions. But this time the far west has come to Atlantic coast and continued the scaling, making it even more decisive. These far-western teams have now beaten eastern teams on both coasts, the Pacific and the Atlantic, and having run out of ocean they are now waiting for the next rebuttal the east will have to offer.

Oregon State and Stanford, by smothering both New York and the Army, rated among the strongest eastern teams, have now shifted the burden of proof on the east. In these last games of the season, the two far-western teams played faster football, harder football and a much more interesting variety of football to look at.

Attacks Versatile.

Florida Leads Scoring Table In Conference

BEST IN BIG LEAGUE

BY HORACE RENEGER.

The rambling Alligators of the University of Florida not only have forged to the front as the leading football scoring team of the United States but have swept almost all games played solely within the Southern conference.

With 324 points in all games played, the Gainesville machine is leading its nearest rival, New York university, by eight points, while within the Southern conference it has counted 225 against 174 for Alabama, its nearest opposition.

In games played against all opposition, Tulane is the nearest to Florida in the south, Billy Banker and mates standing with 262 points in all games while Tennessee, led by the great Eugene McVey, halfback, is next with 262 points in all games.

The scoring table of 14 of the 22 teams of the conference is closed for the year while Florida, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana State, Georgia Tech, Clemson, Georgia and North Carolina each have one game remaining to be played.

MISSOURI VALLEY EVEN WITH BIG SIX.

Kansas City, December 2.—(AP).—The old maxim, "he who laughs last, laughs best," applies well to the four schools left out

Fokker To Build Plane To Inaugurate 36-Hour Cross-Country Flights

Big Monoplane Will Carry 32 Passengers, Builders Announce at Chicago Aero Exposition.

BY WILLIAM E. BERCHTOLD,
Associated Press Aviation Editor.

Chicago, December 2.—(AP)—Anthony Fokker, who has built 11,000 airplanes since 1911, has designed a giant 32-passenger monoplane which will be put into operation on a 36-hour transcontinental flying schedule between New York and the Pacific coast next year.

Announcement of the Fokker Aircraft corporation's plans for building the new air liner on a production basis was made today by Herbert Reed, secretary-treasurer of the corporation, in the presence of the Dutch designer at the international aeronautical exposition here.

Fokker, whose new six-passenger air yacht was placed on exhibition for the first time last night, spent the day strutting around his newly-designed product, receiving the congratulations of friends and pilots. He smiled broadly as Reed made the announcement of Fokker's latest plans—the largest plane in America for coast-to-coast travel.

The luxurious air liner, the first of which is now under construction at the Fokker plant in Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., are to be similar in general appearance and construction to the Fokker planes used by Commander Byrd across the Atlantic; Lieutenants Maitland and Hegenberger to Hawaii, and the Southern Cross flight from California to Australia.

They will be much larger, however, and will be powered with four engines arranged in tandem pairs under the wings. No engine will be placed in front of the fuselage, giving the pilot a clear view at all times. Fokker said full flight could be maintained on any two of the motors.

The cabin space available for passengers will be 34 feet long with a width of 9 feet and an average height exceeding 8 feet, according to Reed. Two lavatory compartments, fitted with toilet, with running water and other conveniences, will be provided. A kitchen with complete electric cooking installation and steward's pantry is included.

The cabin will be arranged in four compartments, each 6 feet 3 inches long and equipped with eight comfortable lounge chairs and two tables. Four Pullman type berths, each 42 inches wide, can be substituted for the seating arrangement. The "Flying Pullman" will be used for night flying.

EFFRON'S TOY DEPT.
THIRD FLOOR

QUICK RELIEF FOR

COLDS

SINCE 1889

GROVES'
BROMO QUININE LAXATIVE TABLETS

"Protected"

Winter has no terrors when the coal bin is full, when the furnace is going full blast, when the moth-balls are shaken out of the old overcoat—and when a snug sum of real cash is on deposit in your name at the bank. Comfort and protection are incomplete without a savings account—deposit today.

We Pay 4% On Deposits

Georgia Savings Bank & Trust Co.

Atlanta's Oldest Savings Bank. Member Federal Reserve System
Capital, Surplus and Undivided Profits $1,000,000.00
Loans Made on Improved City Real Estate

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES HONOR DECEASED ELKS

Annual Memorial Ceremonies Draw Large Crowd Sunday Night.

With Keith's Georgia theater packed almost to capacity by Elks and other citizens of Atlanta, Atlanta Elks Sunday night paid honor to the memories of local members of the order who have died during the past 12 months.

In accordance with the creed of the Elks that deceased members merely have passed on to their reward and to a more beautiful and finer life, ceremonies were inspirational rather than in a spirit of sadness.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The Rev. W. W. Menninger delivered the invocation and the Elks toast and farewell was given by B. C. Croyles, secretary. Memorial day services were in charge of a committee composed of Leslie Hubbard, O. L. Freeman and E. Volpi.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

OFFICIALS SILENT ON SAFETY BODY TRAFFIC CRITICISM

Allderman J. Charles Murphy, chairman of the police committee of city council; Judge A. W. Callaway, of the day division of the recorder's court, and Chief of Police James L. Beavers declined Sunday night to comment on a communication addressed to Mayor I. N. Ragsdale Saturday by the Atlanta Safety council and which set out that marked increase in traffic accidents in Atlanta are attributable to laxity in law enforcement and to a general disrespect of the motorists for traffic regulations. Recorders, the police department and the council committee in charge of traffic control were criticized in the letter, and the mayor this morning will begin an investigation of the complaints before issuing any statement regarding the matter.

The Safety council's letter was issued through George Deibert, secretary, and set out that there have been 39 deaths in Atlanta in the past ten months as a direct result of traffic accidents.

Mr. Murphy declared that any statement prior to the mayor's investigation would be premature.

"Members of the Safety council addressed the letter to the mayor, and I feel that he should issue any statement regarding it," Mr. Murphy said. "The police committee of council and the department will be glad to cooperate in any way possible to reduce the number of accidents, and will assist, as it has in the past, in any move designed to accomplish this end."

There were 1,304 accidents in Atlanta during the first ten months of the year, causing 39 deaths, injury to 1,155 persons and property damage of $400,825, according to figures released by the council.

So far this year there have been 4,207 arrests for traffic law violations as compared with 6,756 for 1922 and 6,299 for 1923.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

LEUTENANT OF POLICE DIES OF HEART ATTACK

Lieutenant Shumate Dies Almost Instantly at Home Sunday.

Police Lieutenant Luther E. Shumate, veteran Atlanta officer and member of the police force for 20 years, died suddenly early Sunday afternoon at his home, 115 Ormond street. Lieutenant Shumate, who was 44 years of age at the time of his death, had been in the yard back of his home working over his automobile for some time Sunday morning and about noon had come into the house and complained that he did not feel well. About an hour later he collapsed and died almost instantly.

He joined the force in 1904 as a patrolman and several years ago was promoted to a lieutenant. For the past few years he has been attached to the traffic squad.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the chapel of J. Austin Dillon company. The Rev. R. T. Rowe will be in charge and burial will be in Greenwood cemetery. He is survived by his widow; a brother, John Shumate, who is a patrolman on the Atlanta force and a sister, Mrs. F. M. Rowan.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of all faiths were joined together in one great brotherhood, Colonel Walter P. Andrews, chief justice of the grand forum of Elks, delivered the principal address.

Ritualistic services were under the direction of Herbert B. Bondy, exalted ruler, and other officers of the lodge. On the musical program were Signor E. Volpi and Nora Allen Volpi, assisted by the Elks' quartet and the Volpi chorus of 25 female voices.

The roll call of members who have died the past year composed of W. W. Orr, W. V. McMillan, John M. Hall, Norman W. Woodside, Thomas Bradley, J. F. McClelland, P. E. R. L. Gomez, H. E. Williamson, Edgar Dunlap, John S. Holliday, Joseph A. Sasser, A. G. Rhodes, Philo D. Parker, R. F. McCormack, H. M. Holliday, W. L. Crump, E. I. Coolidge, T. Jones, George C. Duke, James M. Cockran, J. W. Otto, J. W. Hinchcliffe and George M. Wilson.

Pointing out that the Elks of the Elks precluded religious partisanship, and that members of

Y.W.C.A. Board Asks Delegate To 'Cure of War' Conference

The national board of the Y. W. C. A. has asked the Atlanta Y. W. C. A. to send one of the one hundred voting delegates from the Young Women's Christian association to the conference on the cause and cure of war, to be held in Washington, D. C., January 14-18. Miss Mildred Wells, secretary of the Business Girls, arranged to have Mrs. J. R. Hornady give a talk on current events to the club meeting Tuesday evening, December 4, at 6 o'clock, 37 Auburn avenue. There will be a council meeting of the business girls' league, on Monday, December 3, at 6:30 o'clock.

The day of the weekly vesper service at the Y residence has been changed from Tuesday to Thursday because many of the girls who live in the residence go to the Y headquarters to practice basketball on Tuesday nights.

Miss Hoover has announced the weekly schedule of girl reserve meetings as follows: Monday, Russell High school, East Point, 2:15 o'clock, and at the Stewart Avenue Day home, at 3 o'clock; Tuesday, Decatur High school, at 2 o'clock, the Blue Triangle club, 3 o'clock, at the Y and the Pansy club of the Exposition College mill, at 7 o'clock that evening; Wednesday, Fulton High school, 2:15 o'clock, Hapeville school, 2:15 o'clock, and the Wesley Community center, 3 o'clock; Thursday, the Amateur club girls of Girls' High and Commercial High schools, at 3 o'clock, in the Y building; Friday, James L. Key school, 2 o'clock, and the Stone Mountain school, 2:30 o'clock.

The finance committee meets Monday, December 3, at 11 o'clock, Mrs. Fred W. Patterson presiding in the absence of Mrs. Lee Ascraft, chairman. The nominating committee meets at 12 o'clock for luncheon Tuesday, December 4.

Girl Reserve advisers meet at the Y Monday evening, December 3, to discuss plans for clubs, Christmas projects, and activities for the various clubs. Supper will be served the advisers.

The committee appointed at the first meeting of the Y Communitarian club to plan the next meeting, which met Monday, with Miss Constance Rumbough, decided to hold the next meeting at 3 o'clock, Wednesday, December 5, at the Y, 37 Auburn avenue. Officers of the club will be elected and a program decided upon for the next meetings. A talk, music, and games will be offered this Wednesday.

Women Voters' League Presents State and City Activities

Miss Roberta Hodgson, of Athens, and Mrs. Sinclair Jacobs, of Atlanta, have been named by Mrs. Wellington Stevenson, president of the Georgia League of Women Voters, and official delegates to the fourth conference on the cause and cure of war, to be held in Washington, D. C., January 14-18. Every state league has the privilege of sending two delegates to this conference. Miss Hodgson has long been identified with the study of international relations and she maintains and active interest in the subject of prevention of warfare.

Mrs. Jacobs, who has accepted the appointment as Georgia league chairman of international relations to prevent war, took an active interest in the Georgia cause and cure of war conference held in Athens, last spring. She served as a delegate to that conference, the first of its kind to be held in any state in the union, and since that time has aided in conducting round table discussions and study groups on various phases of international peace.

Tours Districts. Miss Eleanor Raoul, Georgia chairman of state members and college leagues, left Wednesday for a tour of the first and eleventh state congressional districts. Miss Raoul will visit Savannah, Brunswick, Valdosta, and Waycross and will present the purpose of the Georgia League of Women Voters to groups of outstanding women in these cities, also visiting the Georgia State Woman's college in Valdosta to confer with faculty members there. The league is sponsoring a program of pre-war citizenship education throughout Georgia and Miss Raoul, in her official capacity as chairman of state members and college leagues, will do field work towards this end.

Board Meeting. The executive board of the Georgia League meets Thursday, December 5, at 10:30 o'clock at league headquarters in the Candler annex. Mrs. Wellington Stevenson, recently elected president of the state league will preside.

College Park Music Club To Present Noted Musicians

A program of unusual appeal will be presented by the College Park Music club at the Woman's club auditorium Friday evening, December 7, at 8 o'clock, as the first of the usual series of evening programs sponsored by this club each year.

For this occasion, Mrs. Samuel R. Young, chairman, has arranged a mixed program, by Enrico Leide, Miss Manora Conley, Frieda Sullivan and Le Merle Reeves.

Miss Manora Conley, of College Park, possesses a soprano voice of unusual beauty. Miss Conley is the voice pupil of Mrs. Florence Colson Bateman, who is a very thorough musician and an outstanding composer and teacher of singing.

Miss Frieda Sullivan will be presented in a group of acrobatic dances. Miss Sullivan is the younger sister of Miss Nellie Sullivan, well-known teacher of dancing, and gives an excellent performance of difficult but pleasing numbers.

The beloved "Liebestraum," by Liszt, will be the only piano selection, being given by Miss La Merle Reeves, former resident of College Park, and the talented pupil of Mrs. Armand Carroll. Miss Reeves will also serve as accompanist for the rendition of Michaela's "Aria," from "Carmen," sung by Miss Conley, with cello obligato by Mr. Leide. Miss Avis Patterson will appear as accompanist for several numbers.

Mrs. D. C. Lyle, Sr., president, and Mrs. S. R. Young, chairman evening programs, announce that this will be an open meeting and friends and music lovers in Atlanta, East Point, Hapeville and College Park are invited. Members of the executive board will serve as hostesses.

COLORADO TOWN'S OFFICIALS TO FACE U. S. GRAND JURY

Leadville, Colo., December 2.—(AP)—Leadville's entire city council, its sheriff, city attorney and night police captain were under summons today to appear next Tuesday before a federal grand jury as the aftermath of a sweeping investigation of liquor conditions. Eighteen persons in all have been subpoenaed by the United States marshal.

Federal operatives investigated charges that this once rich mining camp, famous for its ores and high altitude, still was housing rows of old time bars along Harrison avenue, its principal thoroughfare. Owners of several alleged saloons whom authorities believe can give information of a thriving liquor business are among those called to appear before the grand jury at Pueblo.

College Park Music Club To Present Noted Musicians

A program of unusual appeal will be presented by the College Park Music club at the Woman's club auditorium Friday evening, December 7, at 8 o'clock, as the first of the usual series of evening programs sponsored by this club each year.

For this occasion, Mrs. Samuel R. Young, chairman, has arranged a mixed program, by Enrico Leide, Miss Manora Conley, Frieda Sullivan and Le Merle Reeves.

Miss Manora Conley, of College Park, possesses a soprano voice of unusual beauty. Miss Conley is the voice pupil of Mrs. Florence Colson Bateman, who is a very thorough musician and an outstanding composer and teacher of singing.

Miss Frieda Sullivan will be presented in a group of acrobatic dances. Miss Sullivan is the younger sister of Miss Nellie Sullivan, well-known teacher of dancing, and gives an excellent performance of difficult but pleasing numbers.

The beloved "Liebestraum," by Liszt, will be the only piano selection, being given by Miss La Merle Reeves, former resident of College Park, and the talented pupil of Mrs. Armand Carroll. Miss Reeves will also serve as accompanist for the rendition of Michaela's "Aria," from "Carmen," sung by Miss Conley, with cello obligato by Mr. Leide. Miss Avis Patterson will appear as accompanist for several numbers.

Mrs. D. C. Lyle, Sr., president, and Mrs. S. R. Young, chairman evening programs, announce that this will be an open meeting and friends and music lovers in Atlanta, East Point, Hapeville and College Park are invited. Members of the executive board will serve as hostesses.

COLORADO TOWN'S OFFICIALS TO FACE U. S. GRAND JURY

Leadville, Colo., December 2.—(AP)—Leadville's entire city council, its sheriff, city attorney and night police captain were under summons today to appear next Tuesday before a federal grand jury as the aftermath of a sweeping investigation of liquor conditions. Eighteen persons in all have been subpoenaed by the United States marshal.

Federal operatives investigated charges that this once rich mining camp, famous for its ores and high altitude, still was housing rows of old time bars along Harrison avenue, its principal thoroughfare. Owners of several alleged saloons whom authorities believe can give information of a thriving liquor business are among those called to appear before the grand jury at Pueblo.

COLORADO TOWN'S OFFICIALS TO FACE U. S. GRAND JURY

Leadville, Colo., December 2.—(AP)—Leadville's entire city council, its sheriff, city attorney and night police captain were under summons today to appear next Tuesday before a federal grand jury as the aftermath of a sweeping investigation of liquor conditions. Eighteen persons in all have been subpoenaed by the United States marshal.

Federal operatives investigated charges that this once rich mining camp, famous for its ores and high altitude, still was housing rows of old time bars along Harrison avenue, its principal thoroughfare. Owners of several alleged saloons whom authorities believe can give information of a thriving liquor business are among those called to appear before the grand jury at Pueblo.

COLORADO TOWN'S OFFICIALS TO FACE U. S. GRAND JURY

Leadville, Colo., December 2.—(AP)—Leadville's entire city council, its sheriff, city attorney and night police captain were under summons today to appear next Tuesday before a federal grand jury as the aftermath of a sweeping investigation of liquor conditions. Eighteen persons in all have been subpoenaed by the United States marshal.

Federal operatives investigated charges that this once rich mining camp, famous for its ores and high altitude, still was housing rows of old time bars along Harrison avenue, its principal thoroughfare. Owners of several alleged saloons whom authorities believe can give information of a thriving liquor business are among those called to appear before the grand jury at Pueblo.

COLORADO TOWN'S OFFICIALS TO FACE U. S. GRAND JURY

Leadville, Colo., December 2.—(AP)—Leadville's entire city council, its sheriff, city attorney and night police captain were under summons today to appear next Tuesday before a federal grand jury as the aftermath of a sweeping investigation of liquor conditions. Eighteen persons in all have been subpoenaed by the United States marshal.

Federal operatives investigated charges that this once rich mining camp, famous for its ores and high altitude, still was housing rows of old time bars along Harrison avenue, its principal thoroughfare. Owners of several alleged saloons whom authorities believe can give information of a thriving liquor business are among those called to appear before the grand jury at Pueblo.

COLORADO TOWN'S OFFICIALS TO FACE U. S. GRAND JURY

Leadville, Colo., December 2.—(AP)—Leadville's entire city council, its sheriff, city attorney and night police captain were under summons today to appear next Tuesday before a federal grand jury as the aftermath of a sweeping investigation of liquor conditions. Eighteen persons in all have been subpoenaed by the United States marshal.

Federal operatives investigated charges that this once rich mining camp, famous for its ores and high altitude, still was housing rows of old time bars along Harrison avenue, its principal thoroughfare. Owners of several alleged saloons whom authorities believe can give information of a thriving liquor business are among those called to appear before the grand jury at Pueblo.

COLORADO TOWN'S OFFICIALS TO FACE U. S. GRAND JURY

Leadville, Colo., December 2.—(AP)—Leadville's entire city council, its sheriff, city attorney and night police captain were under summons today to appear next Tuesday before a federal grand jury as the aftermath of a sweeping investigation of liquor conditions. Eighteen persons in all have been subpoenaed by the United States marshal.

Federal operatives investigated charges that this once rich mining camp, famous for its ores and high altitude, still was housing rows of old time bars along Harrison avenue, its principal thoroughfare. Owners of several alleged saloons whom authorities believe can give information of a thriving liquor business are among those called to appear before the grand jury at Pueblo.

COLORADO TOWN'S OFFICIALS TO FACE U. S. GRAND JURY

Leadville, Colo., December 2.—(AP)—Leadville's entire city council, its sheriff, city attorney and night police captain were under summons today to appear next Tuesday before a federal grand jury as the aftermath of a sweeping investigation of liquor conditions. Eighteen persons in all have been subpoenaed by the United States marshal.

Federal operatives investigated charges that this once rich mining camp, famous for its ores and high altitude, still was housing rows of old time bars along Harrison avenue, its principal thoroughfare. Owners of several alleged saloons whom authorities believe can give information of a thriving liquor business are among those called to appear before the grand jury at Pueblo.

COLORADO TOWN'S OFFICIALS TO FACE U. S. GRAND JURY

Leadville, Colo., December 2.—(AP)—Leadville's entire city council, its sheriff, city attorney and night police captain were under summons today to appear next Tuesday before a federal grand jury as the aftermath of a sweeping investigation of liquor conditions. Eighteen persons in all have been subpoenaed by the United States marshal.

Federal operatives investigated charges that this once rich mining camp, famous for its ores and high altitude, still was housing rows of old time bars along Harrison avenue, its principal thoroughfare. Owners of several alleged saloons whom authorities believe can give information of a thriving liquor business are among those called to appear before the grand jury at Pueblo.

COLORADO TOWN'S OFFICIALS TO FACE U. S. GRAND JURY

Leadville, Colo., December 2.—(AP)—Leadville's entire city council, its sheriff, city attorney and night police captain were under summons today to appear next Tuesday before a federal grand jury as the aftermath of a sweeping investigation of liquor conditions. Eighteen persons in all have been subpoenaed by the United States marshal.

Federal operatives investigated charges that this once rich mining camp, famous for its ores and high altitude, still was housing rows of old time bars along Harrison avenue, its principal thoroughfare. Owners of several alleged saloons whom authorities believe can give information of a thriving liquor business are among those called to appear before the grand jury at Pueblo.

COLORADO TOWN'S OFFICIALS TO FACE U. S. GRAND JURY

Leadville, Colo., December 2.—(AP)—Leadville's entire city council, its sheriff, city attorney and night police captain were under summons today to appear next Tuesday before a federal grand jury as the aftermath of a sweeping investigation of liquor conditions. Eighteen persons in all have been subpoenaed by the United States marshal.

Federal operatives investigated charges that this once rich mining camp, famous for its ores and high altitude, still was housing rows of old time bars along Harrison avenue, its principal thoroughfare. Owners of several alleged saloons whom authorities believe can give information of a thriving liquor business are among those called to appear before the grand jury at Pueblo.

COLORADO TOWN'S OFFICIALS TO FACE U. S. GRAND JURY

Leadville, Colo., December 2.—(AP)—Leadville's entire city council, its sheriff, city attorney and night police captain were under summons today to appear next Tuesday before a federal grand jury as the aftermath of a sweeping investigation of liquor conditions. Eighteen persons in all have been subpoenaed by the United States marshal.

Federal operatives investigated charges that this once rich mining camp, famous for its ores and high altitude, still was housing rows of old time bars along Harrison avenue, its principal thoroughfare. Owners of several alleged saloons whom authorities believe can give information of a thriving liquor business are among those called to appear before the grand jury at Pueblo.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

BUSTER GROWS CRAFTY.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

A little craft with boldness blend To speedily attain your end.

—Buster Bear.

Buster Bear had had the worst fright of his life. He had been shot at and hit. The bullet had done no great damage, but it had hurt. It is doubtful whether the bullet, or the bang of that terrible gun, had frightened Buster most. Buster was lucky, though he didn't know it. He thought he was unlucky. He was sure he was unlucky. But that bullet might have killed him, or it might have broken a leg. It might have done a number of things that it didn't do. So, you see, Buster really was lucky.

It was a very fortunate thing for Buster that the night had been so very dark. Had there been moonlight, or even starlight, the farmer who had been hiding, waiting for Buster to come back to steal another pig, would have been able to make sure of his shot. But Buster didn't think of these things. All he could think of was the fact that he had been hurt and the other fact, that he had been cheated out of another pig. It is a question of another pig, most. You see, having had a taste of pig, it seemed to him that he just must have another.

Buster ran a long way from that farm. At first he intended to keep right on going and never come back. When he had gone far enough for him to think that it was safe to do so, he made himself a bed under a wind-fall and slept. When he awoke, he should have kept right on going. But he didn't. He got to thinking of those pigs over in that pen back on the farm where he had been shot.

"I suppose," said Buster to himself, "that that man with the terrible gun will be watching for me. Yes, sir, I suppose he'll be watching for me. He'll expect me to come back. But I won't do it. That is, I won't do it right away. I'll wait until he has decided that I'm no longer around here. Then one fine night I'll slip back there and get another pig. My, how that terrible gun can hurt!"

So Buster was crafty enough not to go back for almost a week. He felt sure that by that time the farmer would be sure that he had gone away. It was very hard work not to go back where he could keep an eye on things, but he was afraid that if he did the man with the terrible gun might discover him and he had no desire to be shot at again. So he contented himself with hunting for wood mice, digging open ant hills, digging out a few roots and picking up whatever he could find that was edible.

"These are slim pickings," said Buster, "but I guess I can stand it. I know I can, if I can only get a pig a little later. Pigs certainly are good eating. They are the finest eating of anything I have ever tasted. But I mustn't think about them now. If I do, I shall be getting into trouble again."

Now, the farmer who owned the pigs had set night after night hoping to get another shot at Buster Bear. But one cannot sit up nights and work days, so the farmer after three or four nights gave it up. But every morning he went out and very carefully examined the ground around the pig pen to see if he could find any tracks of Buster Bear. Of course, he found none, because Buster hadn't returned. Finally he decided that Buster had had a fright and that he wouldn't return.

"I must have hit that Bear," said the farmer, talking to his wife. "Any way, I gave him an awful fright. There hasn't been a trace of him since. I've been over to the woods looking for his tracks, but I couldn't find them. Bears are pretty smart. Now that he's been shot at, he won't take the chance of being shot at again."

(Copyright, 1928, for The Constitution.)

The next story: "The Boldness of Buster Bear."

West End Woman's Club Sponsors Mammoth Bridge-Luncheon Dec. 6

Mrs. L. M. Ahern, vice president of the West End Woman's club, will sponsor a bridge luncheon Thursday, December 6, from 10:30 to 2:30 o'clock. A delicious dinner will be served, consisting of chicken, dressing, cranberries, rice, giblet gravy, celery, candied yams, hot biscuit and coffee, and attractive prizes have been secured. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Ahern, Mrs. W. B. Crawford, or Mrs. Luther Stull.

Mrs. Chester Johnson, president, announces the opening dance of the West End Woman's club Thursday evening, December 6, from 9 to 12 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to the boys and girls of Atlanta, Decatur, Kirkwood, College Park, East Point and Hapeville, who attended the dances given by Mrs. Johnson for the club in the past, and an especial invitation is extended to the boys and girls of West End. Membership cards will be issued for the dance season, to all weekly dances Thursday evenings to be sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Johnson. They will be assisted by the following committee: Mrs. L. M. Ahern, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Nunnally, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. DeFreese, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Ponder, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Gullatt.

Music will be furnished by the popular eight-piece orchestra, the Rhythm Kings. The hostesses for the opening night will be Misses Elizabeth Green, Laura Johnston, Elaine Settle, Marie Smering, Margaret Stanley, Martha Hillhouse, Margaret Conoley, Rosie Lee Childress, Ruth Cocking, Nell Watson, and the hosts will be W. C. Ferguson and Ralph Wright. On entering, the boys will be given a number, and the two boys drawing the lucky number will be the hosts for the following dance night. Proceeds will be used to beautify the grounds.

Starts Today!
MADGE BELLAMY
In Edna Ferber's Sensational Story
"Mother Knows Best"
A Fox Movietone
TALKING PICTURE!
A Public Theatre
HOWARD
Home of Paramount Pictures

KEITH'S GEORGIA
A Public Theatre
Home of Paramount Pictures
Here It Is!
Paramount's Latest
TALKING PICTURE!
"MANHATTAN COCKTAIL"
—with—
Nancy Carroll
Richard Arlen
Hear Nancy Carroll sing "Another Kiss" and "Gotta Be Good" in this adorable SOUND picture!
On the Stage
KEN HOWELL'S COLLEGIANS
OTHER KEITH ACTS

"BEWARE OF BACHELORS"
A Vitaphone TALKING Picture
RIALTO
Home of Paramount Pictures

LOEW'S CAPITOL
Continuous 1 to 11 P. M.
THIS WEEK
The Man of a Thousand Faces
LON CHANEY
—IN—
"WEST OF ZANZIBAR"
—ALSO—EDITH CLIFFORD
AND
OTHER ACTS LOEW'S SELECTED VAUDEVILLE

The greatest show in Atlanta this week!
Every bit of it entertaining—just what you need from anything you've seen—or will see soon!
SUBMARINE
—with—
Jack Holt—Ralph Graves
Dorothy Devier
Tech's Famous
Pass
The play that beat Georgia in 1927—actual reproduction of every detail.
King George Talks
See and hear the famous monarch in a public address.
At our regular admission prices!

MEIROPOLITAN
MOVIEPHONE VITAPHONE

Decorative Screens
Attractive yet so useful to hide some unsightly object. The story of Artistic Screens is told in this historic map from original plates. With the latest ideas, covered with a strong high quality paper, 144. Durable, light made, finished with charming artistic design.
(Illustrations upon request.) Can be ordered through your local decorator or direct from
A. L. DIAMANT & CO., 181 Park Ave., N. Y.

Unhurried moments with your family---

Do you have enough of them?

Let us help you budget your time

HAVE you mastered the art of putting things first---taking hold of your crowded days and dispatching a hundred bothersome details so as to leave room for a story-hour with the children, or some other precious bit of leisure?

We suggest one way to shorten the list of wearisome household chores:

Let one of these laundries do the family wash. It relieves you of superintending a long and complicated job each week. It gives you the certainty of garments, flatwork, EVERYTHING delightfully clean and spotless. All done so quickly, too!

It means more time for you—freedom. It's just one of the modern labor-savers that keep you from being a slave to household duties—makes you instead truly queen of the home!

Wet Wash: Everything washed in mild suds and rinsed in eight to ten changes of water. The excess water is removed and the bundle is returned damp, sweet and clean, ready to iron or hang up to dry.

Thrift-T: Everything carefully washed and thoroughly rinsed in eight to ten changes of water. The excess water is removed. All flat work is ironed. Other work is returned damp, ready for starching.

Rough Dry: (Dry Wash). Everything washed. Articles like knit underwear, hosiery, bath towels are fluffed dry ready for use. Flat work is neatly ironed.

Homestic: A most acceptable medium-priced ironed service. Flat work is tastefully ironed and folded. All wearing apparel is ironed.

Prim-Prest: A finer laundry service. Everything washed in the purest of rain-soft water and mild suds; everything beautifully ironed, ready to use or put away—a dainty service, complete in every detail.

Peerless Laundry
Walnut 4-4-0-5

Troy Laundry
Walnut 4-9-0-8

Excelsior Laundry
Walnut 2-4-5-4

Piedmont Laundry
Walnut 7-6-5-1

American Laundry
Main 1-0-1-6
Capital City Laundry
Walnut 7-1-2-1

Guthman Laundry
Walnut 8-6-6-1

Trio Laundry
IVy 1-6-0-0

Decatur Laundry
DEarborn 3-1-6-2

May's Laundry
HEmlock 5-3-0-0

THE YOUNG PRETENDERS

By Alice Grant Rosman

SYNOPSIS.

While lying helpless in bed after a motor accident, Hugo Donaldson broods over the fact that his father, with whom he quarreled just before the smash, has never come into his room to visit him. He decides that he must be dead and that his mother and the servants are keeping it a great secret, come to call and tell Hugo that his friend, Paul Molyneux, is in prison for stealing and that he has married some girl of whom his family disapproved that Bunnay Molyneux had expected to marry Paul and is heartbroken over the affair. Bunnay comes to see Hugo and tells him the story, but Hugo, believing he has been the victim of blackmailers, and his family, because of his marriage, has failed to stand back of him in the affair. Bunnay assures Hugo that she was never engaged to Paul, but because of her long friendship for him she would like to help him.

Paul's wife is living in disguise under the name of Mrs. Hallett and she is forced to earn her own living while Paul is in prison. When Hugo asks for someone to read to him every day his nurse, Tright, introduces Mrs. Hallett, and Hugo takes her on as a reader.

Hugo makes a gift of his red roadster, which he calls Miss Trotsky, to Bunnay.

INSTALLMENT XXV.
LETTER FROM MRS. PAUL
MOSTYN TO HER HUSBAND,
UNPOSTED.

My Darling Paul:

I have done something rather dangerous and perhaps slightly dishonest, but I'm very glad I've done it. I've taken a post as reader to your friend, Hugo Donaldson, in disguise, of course, and under the name of Mrs. Hallett. And I'm glad because of a rather wonderful discovery. He believes in you.

The reason he didn't come round to see you as you expected was that he had met with a dreadful accident, and we were so much immersed in our own troubles that we didn't know anything about it. He was found one night on the Portsmouth road pinned under his car, and for a time they thought he would never recover, but he must have a wonderful constitution, for he has rallied marvelously, though he may never walk again owing to some injury to his spine.

I came into it in the most curious way. In my last letter I told you about Bunnay Tright, who gave me her trousseau to make and whose father was a nurse engaged upon a case in a house overlooking Hyde Park. That case turned out to be your friend Hugo. The Ponders said Mr. Tright quite a personage because he works for some of the most famous surgeons and doctors. He is a large, fat, discreet kind of man, with an air of being a person of some consequence in himself; and during one of his visits to the Ponders my friend Henry, not so discreet, seems to have said something to him, yesterday afternoon Mr. Tright arrived in a taxi and asked for me.

He said he had come to see if I would be willing to read to his patient for two hours every day. When I heard he was with the Donaldsons I was terrified, for I thought they had found me out and this was a trap of some kind. Mr. Tright, however, told me that it had been his suggestion and that Lady Donaldson had so much confidence in his judgment that she had sent him in to see me. I would come back with him.

You may imagine what a temptation it was. I should be there only for two hours in the daytime when Sir Richard was away at his chambers, and yet I should be in the thick of your enemies, with perhaps a chance of hearing what their next moves were to be. It sounds mean and spying, but I must use what weapons I can against them.

On the way back in the taxi, Mr. Tright began to tell me about his patient, full of pride at having brought him back from the jaws of death. He said he must warn me never to mention his father to him. You may imagine I pricked up my ears, for you and I have every reason to hate Sir Richard Donaldson, and I felt sympathetic to his son for detesting him. Mr. Tright explained that after Hugo had brought home delicious and sight of his father excited him dreadfully and they had to keep Sir Richard away. "It came out that the young gentleman had been in a bit of trouble with his father directly before the accident," Mr. Tright explained, "and probably brooding over it at the moment of the smash affected his mind temporarily." The nerves again, you see, a sort of delusion that his father is his enemy. It will pass in time, but we must be very careful, for though absolutely before the accident, he didn't come to see him, and this morning upset his mother properly, if you'll believe me, by telling her straight out he wished she was a widow.

I was frightened when we reached the house, but the interview was quite a success. Your Hugo's mother seems considerate to those who serve him. I daresay you who have known both all your life will be amazed that Lady Donaldson and her house seemed perfect to me. You must have had much the same surroundings and you pretend it doesn't matter that you have lost them through me; but I see what I've done to you now and it frightens me. How can my love ever be big enough to make up for the trouble I've brought you, my darling?

Lady Donaldson showed me the floor set apart for the invalid, every door lined with baize so that no noise shall disturb him, and thick felt under the carpets of the corridor. "My boy is so proud of his room," she said, and then she took me in and left me to make friends with him, which I thought very nice and unmotherly of her.

I had an extraordinary morning with him. Perhaps it was my guilty conscience at having come there more or less to spy that made me think half a dozen times that he knew who I was. He asked me to write a letter to your sister Alison. He told her you didn't do it, whatever they said, and that "your girl was not a hussy." Bunnay had gone into the court to have a look at her and liked her. He told Alison not to worry because he had some money he didn't want and you could have it, and he and Bunnay were going to try to look after your girl. I wanted to tell him who I was and I wanted to cry, but I did neither. I must go through with this thing now I've begun it. I didn't identify "Bunnay" until the afternoon when she came in and he introduced her as Miss Molyneux, and I knew she was the girl they pretended you loved. I was afraid she would recognize me and, besides, she might hate me, whatever Hugo thought, and feel I had stolen you from her. I kept my face out of the light and spoke as little as possible, and as I watched her I wondered more than ever how you could have chosen to love me instead, for I am quiet and dull and shabby beside the girls you must always have known.

Aunt Het

"I didn't hear the woman echure, but I'm sure she's mart. Nothin' but a great mind could make her satisfied with that kind of hat."

Bunnay Molyneux is a very modern product, so quick and bright and beautifully turned out. She and Hugo talked nonsense together and I felt that I stood outside in a strange world. She did not recognize me, luckily, but she didn't like me. I could see. She suspected I might let out the contents of Hugo's letter to your sister, but he told her they could trust me and that she was a friend. Perhaps Bunnay hit it when she said: "I daresay you are all right because you are young. It's the old ones I can't stick."

I understood the reason of their fears when I left them and found Lady Donaldson and Mr. Tright lying in wait for me. It was evident they expected me to tell them everything the patient had said and to talk it over significantly. It seemed revolting that just because he was helpless he should have no privacy at all, and though I may spy for your sake nothing is going to induce me to spy for theirs against the friend who trusts you and has so wonderfully trusted me without any reason in the world.

I looked as stupid as I could and declared Mr. Donaldson had said nothing out of the ordinary to me at all. I pointed out that he hardly would to a complete stranger, and they nodded at that and Lady Donaldson said, of course, when he knew me better it would be different. "I'm sure you'll tell me at once, my dear, if he ever seems upset or excited," she added, "because the doctor says that is so very important, and naturally we are most anxious to give him everything he needs and save him any irritation." A cheerful atmosphere is so necessary for an invalid, and I always beg his visitors to remember that.

I said he seemed in excellent spirits and full of fun, and they both looked pleased and proud, as if they felt themselves responsible for that. What gossips we all are. I suppose Lady Donaldson loves her son, and it is a consolation to make him into a prize patient for the world to admire, but it seems all wrong to me. He is a man and has a right to a normal life, still, with its irritations and disappointments and despair, and he'll have them in any case, because he's not a weak fool who can be turned into a doll.

I feel much happier and more hopeful now I know that others believe in you, for though your marriage to me has lost you so much I see it hasn't lost you the trust of your friends, and you won't, after all, be quite cut off from your own world. I believe I have made another discovery. Hugo Donaldson's accident happened two nights after your arrest, which seems to suggest a reason for that trouble with his father. No doubt he drove down from Oxford directly he heard from you, and when he found his father was against you and entirely on the side of your parents, quarreled with him. I cannot believe that boy is suffering from any delusions or abnormality about his father. He is so bitterly against your enemies that he must number Sir Richard among them. It does make me think there must be such a thing as retribution, when through his injustice to you Sir Richard sees his only son made a hopeless invalid, perhaps for life. But no, my logic is all wrong, for where does poor Hugo come in? He had done nothing and neither had you, my darling dear, except marry.

Your Helen Who Loves You,
(Copyright, 1928, for The Constitution.)
(Continued tomorrow.)

Just Nuts

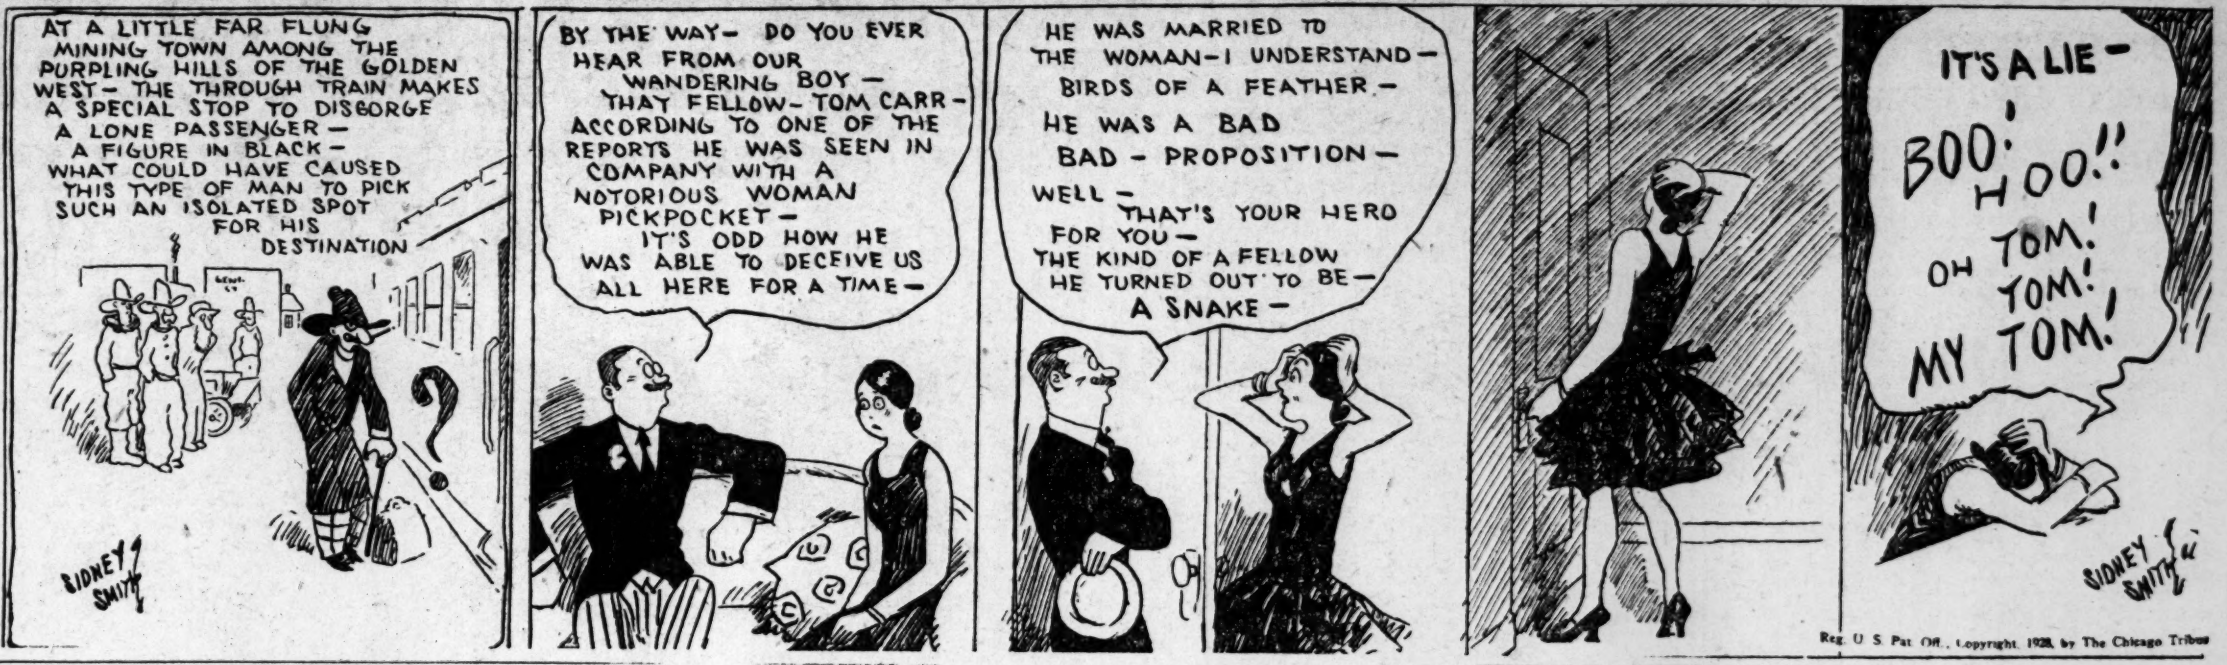

SALLY'S SALLIES

"I GOT MY DIVORCE DEAR, NOW WE CAN GET MARRIED"

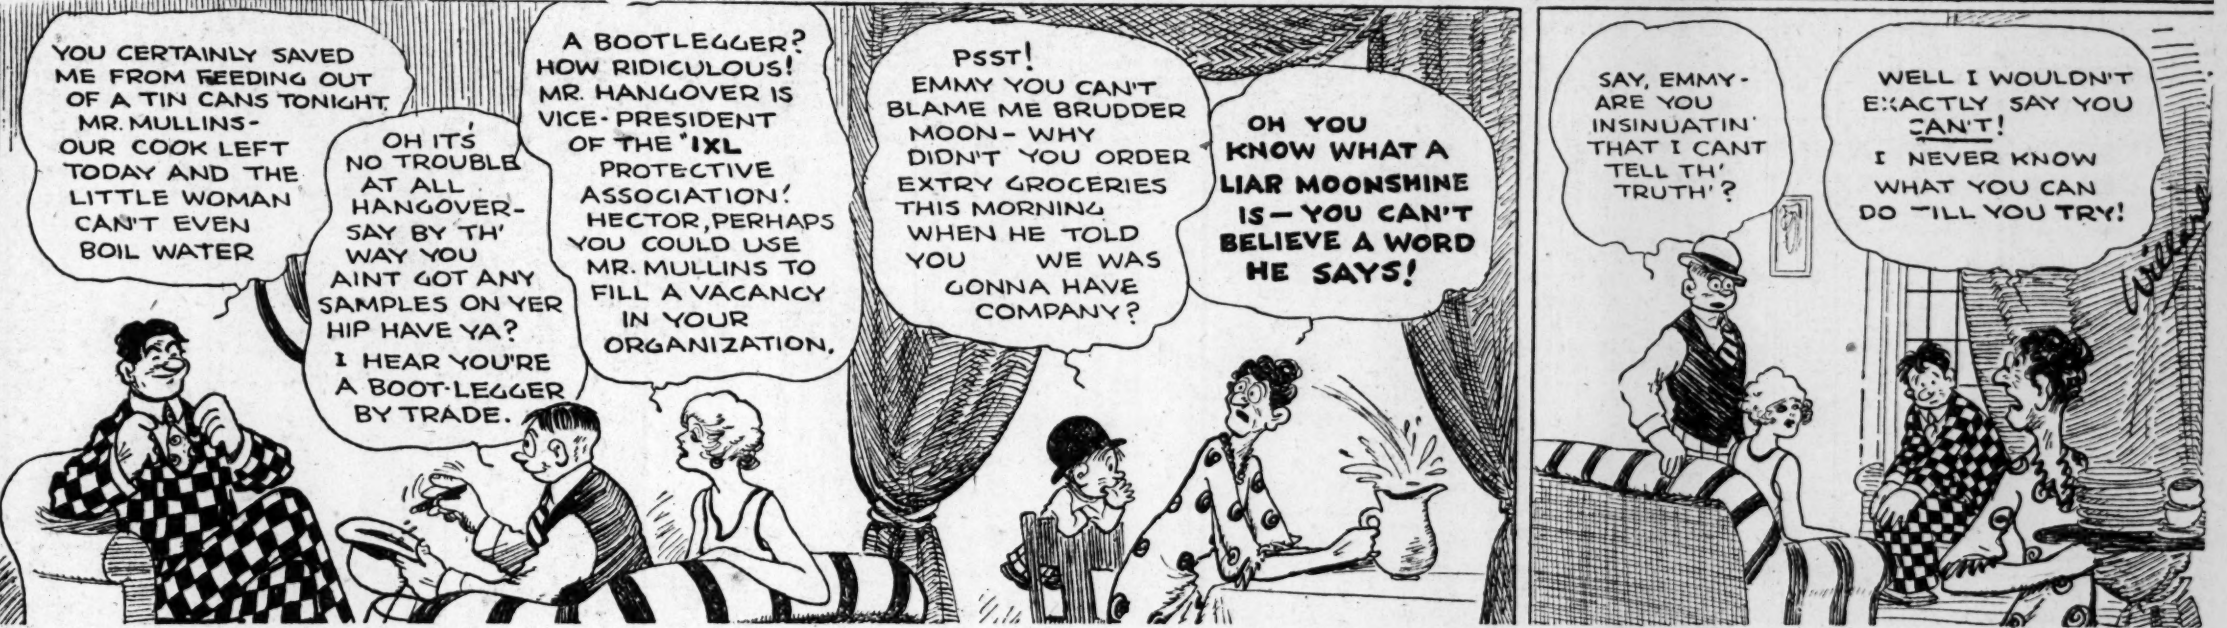

Problems of matrimony are no longer solved—they are dissolved.

THE GUMPS—THE WORLD'S BEST BOOSTER

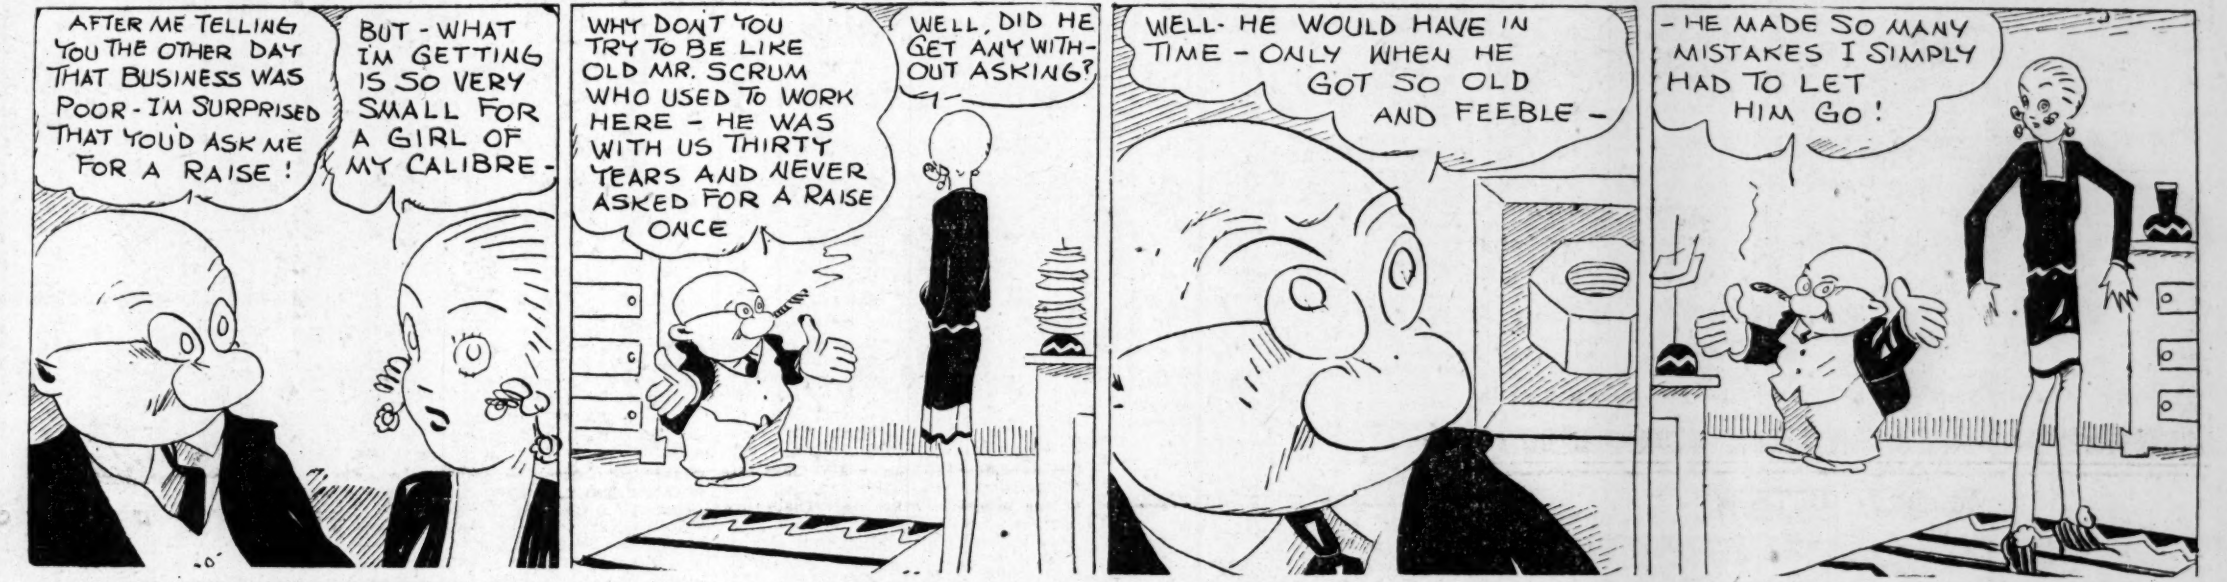

MOON MULLINS—A GREAT CHARACTER REFERENCE

SOMEBODY'S STENOG—Bright Prospects

By Hayward

GASOLINE ALLEY—NO CHANCE

"A population of 500,000 by 1932" is Atlanta's slogan. Let's all pull together for a Greater Atlanta.

The Constitution's Weekly Business Review

EDITED BY M. D. GLEASON

There is hardly a need or a want that cannot be filled in Atlanta's stores and factories.

Silent Automatic Oil Burner Has Splendid Year in South

Rarely has a company so large as the Silent Automatic Oil Burner, of Detroit, come into the south and started off so well in volume of business and gained such favorable recognition in so short a time as this big company.

Scarcely more than a year ago O. A. Blanchard left Detroit for Richmond, Va., to become southern sales manager. Soon after Mr. Blanchard opened up headquarters there he secured dealers in Richmond and Petersburg, Norfolk, Roanoke and Danville. He then went into North Carolina and soon had live dealers in Raleigh, Greensboro, Winston-Salem, Asheville and Charlotte. Tennessee was next invaded and dealers received franchises in Knoxville, Nashville, Chattanooga and Memphis.

In Greenville and Spartanburg dealers were located in South Carolina. Then Florida was looked over and dealers commissioned in Jacksonville and West Palm Beach. Birmingham and Montgomery were next visited and live firms in those bustling cities were soon selling this new automatic oil heating device. Meridian and Jackson, Miss., next were put on the Silent's map. Then J. E. Edwards, who was vice president for the Reed Oil company for many years, and in Paul D. O'Kelley Electric Storage Battery company at 78 Auburn avenue, thought this was about the right time to bring a low-priced oil burner into Atlanta and he suggested to Mr. O'Kelley that he go up to Detroit and study this new Silent and report back.

Mr. O'Kelley came back an enthusiastic oil-heating disciple and his firm now has one of these oil burners as a demonstration sample in the sales rooms on Auburn avenue near Wesley Memorial church. Mr. O'Kelley, Mr. Edwards or a city salesman is there during business hours showing the many advantages of the Silent automatic oil burner.

When it is not convenient for any one interested to see this splendid burner in operation, a telephone call at Walnut 1326, or a written request, will bring descriptive literature that will convey a good idea of some of the many reasons why this new Silent oil burner is becoming so popular in all parts of the south.

OFFICIALS OF SOUTHERN RAILWAY HERE TODAY

146 Representatives of System Gather for Two-Day Conference.

Two-day conference of 146 officers and representatives of the freight traffic department of the Southern Railway system will convene today in the assembly room of the Southern's new office building, with a dinner tonight at the Atlanta Athletic club as the principal item.

The officials, who come from all parts of the country, will be guests at 6:30 o'clock tonight of the Traffic club at its regular December dinner meeting. They will be welcomed by Governor L. G. Hardman, Mayor L. N. Ragsdale and Bobby Jones, Atlanta's famous golfer.

E. R. Oliver, of Washington, D. C., vice president of the Southern Railway system, will be principal speaker of the occasion. M. M. Emmert, president of the Traffic club, will serve as toastmaster. Mr. Oliver's subject will be "The Southern Railway—Atlanta Citizen."

The two-day conference is one of the largest ever held by the Southern and brings to Atlanta representatives from points as far away as Boston, the Great Lakes cities, the Pacific and Cuba. Mr. Oliver, who is vice president in charge of traffic, will preside.

LONG RUN SERVICE BY BUSES STARTS FROM CITY TODAY

Bus line service on the Atlanta-Jacksonville route and routes northward to Cincinnati, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Minneapolis, Louisville, Kansas City and to the west coast will be inaugurated this morning by Dixie Coaches, Inc., through a merger with the Greyhound lines and Pickwick Stages companies.

Arrival in Atlanta Friday of a group of new buses for use on the lines of the company, which will extend to every part of the country, completed arrangements for inauguration this morning of the service.

The new company, composed of the three companies named, will be known as the Motor Transit Management company, of Chicago, and is the largest company of its kind in the world. Running time from Atlanta to Jacksonville will be 15 hours with an hour and a half for stops; to Detroit in 32 hours; to Pittsburgh in 24 hours and 24 hours to Chicago.

Announcement of the company says that when the northward lines are fully established and road conditions permit, the new sleepers, giant road coaches carrying 30 people, will be placed into service. One of the new sleepers will be on display at the Peachtree Bus terminal today or Tuesday.

Vagrants Beware.
Miami, Okla., December 2.—(United News.)—A municipal woodpile will be maintained by the city of Miami this winter to help in handling the problem of transient paupers. Vagrants apprehended in the city will be put to work on the woodpile to earn their necessary food, clothing, and lodging.

'Extravaganza' Is Offered For Two Nights at Emory

Scene from a burlesque of "Midsummer Night's Dream" which will be presented tonight and Tuesday night at Emory university by students. Left to right, the players are W. G. Irwin, May Morton, Gus Rush and A. H. Robinson as the lion.

More than a hundred students will take part in the first "Extravaganza" program at Emory university on Monday and Tuesday nights. This new entertainment takes the place of the annual "stunt night" which has been held for 13 years at the university.

The extravaganza will consist of an evening of entertainment featuring original skits, playlets and acts. The whole program will be unified under the general theme of the "Show Boat." The Glee club's part of the program. Several of the most popular songs from this show will be sung, and the Emory Little Symphony orchestra will furnish appropriate accompaniments from the musical comedy.

Peter Manning, veteran entertainer of the collegiate stage and banquet table, will act as master of ceremonies for the occasion. He has appeared before nearly every club and civic organization in Atlanta, as well as having taken part in the previous stunt night program each year.

ATLANTA COMPANY IS CORRESPONDENT FOR MISSOURI LIFE

Spratlin, Harrington & Thomas, of 72 Marietta street, announce their appointment as real estate loan correspondents for Atlanta and suburbs of the Missouri State Life Insurance company, of St. Louis, Mo.

This company, through its able management and liberal policies, has attained high rank among the great companies of America. Its growth of recent years has been such as to attract attention of the insurance world. In keeping with the policy of the management of the Missouri State Life, real estate loans are made only in those sections that give promise of continuous and substantial growth. The appointment of Spratlin, Harrington & Thomas as loan correspondents is a further evidence of the fact that the city of Atlanta is known as a community in which real estate values are stable.

Loans for the Missouri State Life Insurance company will be on first mortgages only and on improved property. Through bond houses, this corporation is able to handle loans of special type. The Mortgage Purchase and Sales corporation, a local organization handling its business through Spratlin, Harrington & Thomas, enables this organization to handle second mortgage loans in Atlanta and vicinity. Home builders can be served through a combination of first and second loans.

Spratlin, Harrington & Thomas have long been known as one of the leading insurance agencies of the city. The real estate loan department, organized two years ago, has made substantial progress and the connection with the Missouri State Life Insurance company will enable this department better to serve the public in handling real estate loans.

CHILD WELFARE BODY CONVENES HERE TODAY

Regional Conference To Be in Session at Y. M. C. A. for Two Days.

The first and largest of three conventions scheduled to meet this week in Atlanta will start today when the southeastern regional conference of the Child Welfare League of America opens its registration at 9 o'clock at the Luckie street Y. M. C. A.

After an hour devoted to registration of delegates, of which there are several hundred expected, the first business session will be called in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. At this time C. C. Carsten, executive director of the league, will give an address on the problems met in developing a child-care program in a county organization.

Following Mr. Carsten's address a general discussion will be held with Mrs. Florence S. Adams, director of county organization work in the child welfare department of Alabama, and Miss Wilma Van Duse, of the Georgia department of public welfare, acting as discussion leaders.

Following routine matters the delegates will adjourn at 12:30 to the Andley hotel for a luncheon, at which Mr. Carsten will again be the principal speaker.

The afternoon business session, convening at the Y. M. C. A. at 2:30 o'clock, will be devoted largely to discussion of the relation between children's agencies and maternity hospitals in dealing with the problem of the unmarried mother and her children. Discussion leaders at this time will be Lieutenant Colonel Martha Hamon, of the Salvation Army; Miss Emma Hardcastle, of the Georgia Children's Home society; and Marcus Fogg, of the Florida Children's Home society.

The Monday night session of the conference will meet at 8 o'clock and the feature of the meeting will be an address on the place of the child guidance clinic in a children's program by Dr. George Preston, commissioner of mental hygiene for Maryland.

The meetings will continue through Tuesday.

JEWISH MUSIC TOPIC OF TEMPLE MEETING

Dr. A. Lipitz will sing several Jewish songs and Miss Irene Freitag will read a paper upon Jewish music as a special feature of a meeting of the Temple Sisterhood at the Jewish temple at Pryor and Richardson streets at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The meeting will be devoted to the hearing and study of Jewish music, its history and present status. Miss Birdie Isenberg will accompany Dr. Lipitz.

HOME FOLKS!

EVERYTHING being equal, you'd prefer to patronize a "home industry"—wouldn't you? When ENVELOPES are considered, you'll find it a distinct ADVANTAGE to buy from us—a Georgia manufacturer!

All commercial types of envelopes Made Right.

Atlanta Envelope Co.

505-11 Stewart Ave., S. W. Main 3370

J. W. LIETCH

260 Flat Shoals Ave.

The Autoist's Friend

Diamond Tires, Philco Batteries, Gasoline and Oils

Road Service

IVy 8859

Burford, Hall & Smith

Power Plants and Power Plant Equipment

Pumping Machinery

Phone Walnut 8890

Red Rock Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.

SECRETARIAL SERVICE

204 Glenn Building

Office Space and Desk Telephone Service Mail Address Correspondence Handled

LONG DISTANCE MAILING

Storage Packing Moving Shipping

PERSONAL

12 Spring St., S. W. WAL 2701

200 STYLES NEW FALL DRESSES To Retail Profitably at $2.00, $3.00 and $4.00

NEW YORK STOCK HOUSE, Inc. ATLANTA, GA.

WELDING ENGINEERS, Boiler-makers, Machinists, Welders, Radiators, Electric and Ox-acetylene Welding Machines and Supplies.

S. Pryor St. and A. W. P. Ry. 17-19 Marietta St. BIRD-POTTS CO., Inc. Atlanta, Ga. Tel. MAin 1676 IVy 4250

Logan-Long Employ Southern People To Make Good Roofs

The calendar shows that this is the season of the year when much cold rain may be expected. This means that a building with a bad roof will begin to cause trouble for those who occupy it. If a new roof is needed, the Logan-Long brand is recommended. This splendid roofing is made right here in Atlanta at 1215 Sylvan road, where this company has one of the most modern roofing plants in the country.

The building supply dealers of the south are vitally interested in obtaining their supplies in the south, particularly when they are manufactured in Dixie, with labor drawn in Dixie and with material purchased in Dixie. Such supplies when filling the requirements of the most careful buyer should be purchased near by, where delay in shipment is reduced to a minimum.

Situated in Atlanta, with operations embodying all of the above as well as low freight rates to all parts of the south, this Atlanta plant is only four years old. It has experienced roofing men back of it who have been a lifetime in the roofing business to their credit. John Logan first engaged in the roofing business 33 years ago with the Vulcanite company of Belfast, Ireland, and London, England. In 1902 he came to this country with Mr. Glendinning, and they established the present Vulcanite Roofing company at Chicago. Mr. Logan acted as vice president and general manager of that company. It was sold to the Beaver Board company in 1919. Mr. Logan becoming vice president of the Beaver Board company, in charge of the roofing division. In 1922 the Logan-Long company was started, with Mr. Logan as its president.

A pleasing factor about this Atlanta plant of the Logan-Long company is that it is managed by native Atlanta men. The manager, J. E. Thornton, is a sterling Atlanta citizen, who not only looks after the best interests of his plant, but also takes an active hand in every civic movement that is for the best interest of Atlanta and vicinity. The sales manager, T. F. McWaters, has long been identified with the building supply business of this section and knows what kind of roofs are suitable for all buildings.

The city representative, C. G. Warren, is a live wire, who is making an excellent record in sales in and around Atlanta. These men are all familiar with roofing problems pertaining to this part of the country. The Atlanta plant is making the right kind of roll roofing and shingles that last longest in the southern climate.

Suicide Identified.

Macon, Ga., December 2.—(AP)—The body of a man who shot and killed himself in a hotel room here on Friday, was identified today as J. E. McFarland, of Grand Rapids, Mich. He registered under the name of Thomas Smith. The body was shipped to Grand Rapids late tonight, though he had left money and instructions for his burial here. Identification was made through a postoffice box receipt issued at Tampa Springs, Fla., to J. E. McFarland.

WHEN YOU RE-ROOF, LAY Bird's Roofing

Right over the old shingles "Save Money and Gain Warmth"

For Sale By

MILLER LUMBER CO.

1171 Ridge Ave., S. W. Phone MAin 3156

TAX FREE GEORGIA BONDS and LOCAL STOCKS

J. H. HILSMAN & CO., Inc.

601 Atlanta Trust Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.

Are Your Investments Properly Diversified?

We will be pleased to make recommendations.

Bond Dept.

TRUST COMPANY OF GEORGIA

Atlanta

CHILES COAL CO.

2 Yards, West End Yard, W. E. 2181, North Side, IVy 1493

Furnace Fuel, holds fire $7.00

Best Quality Ky. Egg $7.00

Red Ash Ky. Block $7.50

First Mortgage Loans MONEY IS MONEY

Some Borrowers Pay More Than Others for Same Money

Consult Our Mortgage Department

Get a Loan Suitable to Your Requirements

HOME OWNERS SHOULD INVESTIGATE OUR TEN-YEAR LOANS

GUARANTEED BOND & MORTGAGE CO. Established 1887

Wynne-Claughton Bldg. Tel. WAL 0996

EXPERT MACHINIST

Our Modern, Efficient Machine Shop is equipped to take care of all classes of machine work.

Our Broad Engineering Experience in designing and building complete machines is at your disposal. Estimates gladly furnished.

DAVIDSON-KENNEDY CO.

1090 Jefferson St. Atlanta, Ga. Phone HEam 4729

(Manufacturers Improved Cotton Seed Oil Mill Machinery)

AUTOMOBILE TIRES—BATTERIES AND A FULL LINE OF ACCESSORIES

At the Most Reasonable Prices

748 Marietta St. Court House Square, Decatur, Ga. Macon, Ga.

GOLDEN EAGLE COMPANY

Superior Brand Sausage and Wieners

914 Howell Mill Road, N. W. Tel. HEam 7317

DECKNER-WILLINGHAM LUMBER CO.

LUMBER—MILLWORK—SERVICE

WAL 6431 585 Wells St.

Put the Finishing Touches on Your Home

NUMETAL WEATHER STRIPS

are on the job continuously rain or shine, windy or stormy weather and they will save their cost the first year they are on your house. Call us at FAirfax 1483-1484 and let us give you further information.

ATLANTA TENT & AWNING CO.
EAST POINT, GA.

CALL US UP

If you need a plumber, we do not employ plumbers but we will be glad to recommend you a reliable licensed plumber, whose prices are reasonable.

PICKERT PLUMBING SUPPLY CO.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
107-109 Central Ave., S. W. WAL 8109

LOGAN-LONG COMPANY

Manufacturers of Roll Roofing and Shingles of Many Designs.

1215 Sylvan Road Atlanta, Ga.

BUY HER AN EASY WASHER

The Ideal, Sensible Christmas Gift

See Demonstration Machine at Our Salesroom.

The Easy Washer Shop
410 Peachtree St. IVy 3047

AUSTIN BROS. BRIDGE CO.

STRUCTURAL STEEL FOR ALL PURPOSES

Reinforcing Rods—Bridges—Road Machinery

Offices and Plant Opposite Ft. McPherson Atlanta, Ga. Telephone WEst 2200

HART HEAT

Now is the time to install your HART OIL BURNER. By all means investigate our guarantee and purchase plan.

PREFERRED EQUIPMENT CO., INC.

"When a Better Oil Burner is Made We Will Sell It."

383 SPRING ST., N. W. Tel. IVy 2655

Dependable Laundering and Dry Cleaning

PIEDMONT LAUNDRY

Walnut 7-6-5-1

Let Us Consult With You on Your Needs for Contractors' Equipment and Construction Machinery

Sold and Serviced by

W. C. CAYE & COMPANY

158-160 Walker St. ATLANTA Phone MAin 2177

WILLIAMS OIL-O-MATIC

See the New Model J

You can have one installed in your home for small cash payment and twelve months to pay. Let us explain our plan to you.

NATIONAL PRODUCTS, Inc.

Walnut 9272 471 Peachtree

GEORGIA FIRE WORKS CO.

Largest Distributors of Fire Works in the South.

Write for Prices Before Buying.

2254 Mitchell St., S. W. Near Terminal Station

SAVE MONEY, TIME AND FREIGHT BY BUYING HERE

For speed, service and satisfaction, use

SOUTHEASTERN EXPRESS

MAin 0110 "The South's Own Express Company" MAin 0110

Use John Crane Flexible Metallic Packing

For steady, uniform, economical service year after year, and your packing troubles are practically eliminated.

Sold by BARRETT-WATSON CO.
35 S. Forsyth St. WAL 9182-83

W. C. SPIKER & CO.

Structural and Architectural Consulting and Designing Engineers

Established 1905
Forth Building, Atlanta, Georgia, 1421 Empire Bldg. Birmingham, Ala.

RITTENBAUM BROS.

Manufacturers of Sanitary Wiping Cloths

472-78 DECATUR ST. WAL 7824 Atlanta, Ga.

METAL STAMPING

STENCILS—RUBBER STAMPS MULTIGRAPHING

Dixie Seal and Stamp Co. Poplar Street

Superior Mattress Co.

835 Bankhead Ave., N. W. SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

One Day Service

Renovating Like New Call Hemlock 9274

GEO. S. RUSSEY, Vice Pres. & Sec.

Kirkwood Coal Co.

HIGH GRADE KENTUCKY COAL AND COKE

1948 DeKalb Ave. Phone DE 1795

BENSCOT WATER

From Bencot Lithia Springs, Austell, Ga.

The best water for organic disease, caused by uric acid. For sale everywhere.

PURA WATER CO.

100 Piedmont Ave., WA 9320

THE Silent Automatic oil burner sets a new standard of heating efficiency for the whole industry—

—It is so silent that it cannot be heard in a room directly above your heating plant——and it sells for $395—the lowest price in history for a burner of one size, at one price, which will heat any home from a cottage to a mansion.

That is why we say—"Now it costs so little to enjoy oil heating."

For this price is revolutionary among other good oil burners. Before you buy a ton of coal, visit our display room. See the Silent Automatic in operation there. Ask about the convenient terms.

There is only one "Silent"

SILENT AUTOMATIC

THE NOISELESS OIL BURNER

$395

Prospective purchasers in this community will be interested to know that the Silent Automatic Corporation is one of the strongest financial organizations in the oil burner industry. No "Silent" will ever become an "orphan."

Dealers for Atlanta Territory

PAUL D. O'KELLEY CO.

78 Auburn Ave., N. E. Walnut 1336

~~~~~

THURMAN BROS.—House cleaners, window, woodwork, floors, waxed. Walls cleaned. IVc 2028.

EMPLOYMENT

* Help Wanted—Female 32

BEAUTY SHOPS and ladies who wish to represent Esprit d'Amour Toiletries and Flowers in the North and South. Applis Box 174, Avondale Estates, Ga. DE. 2780.

COLORADO AGENTS MAKE $25 WEEKLY, no money needed, all or spare time. Telephone 175-2410.

EARN MONEY in your spare time, heading in and addressing letters and envelopes. Huge book selling campaign. Chicago Palmer Advertising, 6 N. Michigan, Chicago.

GIPS-See next column.

GIRLS wanted to act as models for ladies' apparel; enclose photograph and give GIRL wanted, write neat handwriting for general office work; state age and salary expected. H 465, Constitution.

MULLINERY MANAGER

CAPABLE, experienced woman to take complete charge of out-of-town department. Must have knowledge of chain-store systems. Only letters giving full details of experience will be answered. Address

MR. H. S. MITTENTHAL,
206 North 19th St.
Birmingham, Ala.

MIDDLE-AGE, settled colored woman for general house work. Live on place. HE 478.

WOMAN experienced cook living near 704 Piedmont avenue. Apply early.

WOMEN to distribute advertising matter and take orders. Experienced only. MAD 383-M before 9:15 or after 5 p. m. for appointment.

WOMAN—Over 28, entirely unencumbered, to act as traveling representative for Cal- to cal apparel firm, established over 35 years; unusual opportunity for permanent position, offering every opportunity for rapid advancement; we will finance you; must be able to leave Atlanta within ten days. 1529andler Bldg.

Help Wanted—Male 33

DVERTISING MAN, experienced, Walnut 2614. Only 8 p. m.

COLORED man wanted who has had experience as a dining car waiter or porter, insurance agent, or experience in keeping records. Give age, experience, past employments, etc. Address H-452, Constitution building.

EXPERIENCED security salesman will do well to see us as we have something worth while to offer. Call at 823 Wynne-daughton Bldg.

JUNIOR EXECUTIVE.

LOCAL branch of Chicago manufacturing

ALL SOUTHERN STATES. SEE RUFF-
ER AFTER 4 O'CLOCK. HAMPTON
OTEL.

---

EN—Work on trains; chance for advancement. Terminal Sta., downstairs.
texas Co.

NIOR public accountant, 30-40. Also beginner stenographer. 708 Wynne-Claugh-

Blgd.
VIERAL, young men, not over 22 years of age, travel with Mrs. J. R. Baffner, after 10 a. m. Hampton hotel.
70 young men for sales work. No experience required. Work with manager of established store. We teach you the work. Earn better than $20 per week. Write. See Mr. Goltz, 208 Red Rock Bldg.
UNEMPLOYED—Train news agents for long runs. Good pay for right drive. Angier Crescent Hotel company. 210 Hunter street, Winston.

TWO MEN WHO CAN SELL QUALITY MOTOR CARS TO THE ENTIRE CLIENTELE IN ATLANTA.
GOOD MONEY AND PERMANENT CONNECTION. GIVE AGE,
EXPERIENCE AND PRESENT
EMPLOYMENT. STRICTLY CON-
FIDENTIAL. ADDRESS C-359, CON-STITUTION.

UNEMPLOYED—An experienced hotel pantry man or woman must be good pie maker, also to make all salads. Hotel located 10 hours from Atlanta. Address F-23, Constitution.

HAVE AN

NECESSARY THAT YOU, LIVE ON OR NEAR THE ROUTE, ALSO
MUST BE ABLE TO PUT UP A

MUST BE ABLE TO PUT UP A

CASH BOND. APPLY AT ONCE
TO MR. J. H. MOYE OR A. C.
TOMMEY, FIRST FLOOR, CON-STITUTION BUILDING.

Funeral Notices

MASLIA—Funeral services for Regina Maslia, of 626 Pryor S.W., were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the chapel of Greenberg & Co., 95 Forrest av. Rev. S. Menachen officiating. Burial in the cemetery at Greenwood.

FINNEY—Mr. Clancy Finney, local hotel died suddenly Sunday morning. He is survived by his brother, Mr. R. L. Finney. The remains were taken Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock to Macon, Ga., for interment. Sam Green

STOKES—The funeral services for Miss Ida Stokes, who died at home early Saturday evening of last week, were held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the chapel of Barclay & Brandon Co., with H. Witherspoon Dodge officiating. The remains were carried to Wash-

TYRELL—Mr. Isaac R. Tyrell, of Bedford Place, N. E., died at the private sanitarium Sunday morning.

He is survived by one daughter, Mary E. Stevens; one granddaughter, Mrs. L. A. P. Tanner; three grand children, Misses Elenor, Paul and Frederick Tanner. Funeral arrangements will be announced by Ed Bond & Condon Co., 123 street, N. E.

SHUMATE—The friends of Mrs. Luther E. Shumate, Mrs. John A. Shumate, Mrs.

ements
wtry &
Mary
John S.
James D.
John S. end the rke to y, 1928,
ce. O.
R. O.
at West
inter-

will please act as pallbearers: Lieutenant L. J. Carroll, Lieutenant M. Weaver, Mr. L. W. Evans, J. W. Mashburn, Jr., Mr. H. and Mr. D. T. Barge.

TATUM—Friends of Mr. and Burrell Edward Tatum, of 2600 son street, N. W., Mr. and Charlie Russell and Mr. and George Russell, Huntsville, Ala., and Mrs. Jess Russell, LaFayette, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Huntsville, Ala.; Mrs. Burrell Tatum, West, Palm Beach, Fla.

invited to attend the funeral of Burrell E. Tatum this (Monday) afternoon, December 3, 1928, at 2 o'clock from the chapel of Sam C. Berg & Co., 95 Forrest avenue. Adrian Warwick and Rev. W.

Houghton officiating. The following gentlemen will act as pallbearers: please meet at the chapel: Messrs. L. Russell, Jr., H. H. Russell, Russell, F. W. Tollerson, H. Hughes, R. L. Williams, Empires of the Randall Brothers Lumber Co. are especially invited to attend. Burialment at Crest Lawn cemetery, Bloomfield in charge.

PATRICK—Friends of Mr. and James Newton Patrick, of 653 avenue, S. W., Mrs. Effie Starne Ruth Meckel, Mr. Charles F. Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Blackwell Birmingham, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. C.

1928.
P. 1929
West ted to to meet
H. M.
Mrs.
S. S.
Mrs.
L. P.
Mrs.
Mrs.
Craw-
J. Gro-board

HUTCHINS.—The friends of Mr. Mrs. T. J. Hutchins, of College Park, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hutchins, of Montgomery, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. L. White, of College Park, Ga.; Mildred Hutchins, of College Park, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hutchins, of Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Dickerson, of Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. J. Dickerson, of Atlanta, Ga.; and Mrs. E. M. Gammon, of Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wixom, of Atlanta, Ga., and Mrs. Addie Boyd are invited to attend the funeral of

T. J. Hutches this (Monday) afternoon, 11 o'clock from the College Park Methodist church. Rev. G. W. McCall will officiate. Interment in Greenwood cemetery. The following gentlemen will serve as pallbearers: please assemble at the residence, 1840 Oak avenue, at 2 o'clock: Mr. J. C. McCall, Mr. J. C. McCall, Mr. W. H. Hutches, Mr. T. B. Johnson, Dr. E. F. Gibson, and Mr. N. Dickerson. A. C. Hemperley & Co., funeral directors.

HILL—The friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Harvey Hill, of this city, are invited to attend the funeral of their son, Mr. Benjamin Hill, who died at his residence, 1840 Oak avenue, on Monday, March 3, 1908, at 11 o'clock. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock, Monday afternoon, at the College Park Methodist church. Rev. G. W. McCall will officiate. Interment in Greenwood cemetery. The following gentlemen will serve as pallbearers: please assemble at the residence, 1840 Oak avenue, at 2 o'clock: Mr. J. C. McCall, Mr. J. C. McCall, Mr. W. H. Hutches, Mr. T. B. Johnson, Dr. E. F. Gibson, and Mr. N. Dickerson. A. C. Hemperley & Co., funeral directors.

Cases E. Hinn, Sr., of West P.
Ga., and Mr. and Mrs. B. D. L. ford, are invited to attend the at of Mr. Benjamin Harvey Hill, his (Monday) morning, December
1928, at 10 o'clock at Grace Meth-ist church. Rev. W. A. Sheewill officiate. The following message will serve as pallbearers:
at the residence, No. 798 Ponca-
Leon avenue, N. E., at 9:30 o'clock.
Dr. J. B. Brown, Mr. Pat. Calhoun,
Dr. George J. D. Hines, Mr. R. H.
Cahiss, Chief Justice R. B. Hocudais, Counsel Jacob T. Ba-and 17th Joseph Jacobs, McNeel's church will serve as honorary escort and meet at the church at 9:45 o'clock. Remains will be taken by automobile to West Point, Ga., for interment at 2:30 o'clock. H. M. Patterson & Son.

---

(COLORED.)

JORDAN—Funeral services for 1 Henry Jordan, who died at his residence, 368 Foundry street, N. W., ember 1. will be held at Amador

Flipper A. M. E. church, Founand Davis streets, this (Mondnight at 8:30 o'clock. Rev. J.
Gardner will officiate. Remains be taken to Barnesville, Ga., for ment Tuesday a. m. at 8 o'clock via automobile. Dunn Brothers.

of Mr. and Mrs. Eskridge Hughley and Mrs. Rosa Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Colquitt, Mrs. Mary Crawford, Mrs. Mary Richardson and Mr. W. M. Williams. They are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Eskridge Hughley at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the funeral chapel located at South View cemetery, near David T. Howard & Co.

THURMAN—Funeral services for THURMAN—Funeral services for THURMAN will be held today at 2 o'clock from the chapel near David T. Howard & Co. Interment Chestnut Hill cemetery.

BRYANT—Mrs. Lizzie Bryant, of south Atlanta, died Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. She was 72 years old. The funeral will be announced by David T. Howard & Co.

